

Our 2015 Secret Artists

(in alphabetical order)

Reigh Abauag

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Abbybelle

www.abbybelle.etsy.com

Artist Bio:

Based in Los Angeles, California, Abbybelle Folk Art focuses on original paperclay characters and festive holiday designs as conceptualized by artist Samantha Secor. Products range from figurines to ornaments to decor items. Abbybelle items can be found in Dark Delicacies and Creature Features in Burbank and at Monster-A-GoGo on Melrose in Los Angeles.

Annabelle Abruzzo

Artist Bio:

Annabelle Abruzzo is an eight-year-old student at St. Finbar School in Burbank. She loves art and drawing animals. This is a golden bamboo lemur.

Courtney Abruzzo

Artist Bio:

Courtney Abruzzo graduated from Art Center College of Design in Pasadena with a BA in Illustration After several years working as a freelance corporate and editorial illustrator, Courtney embarked on a teaching career. She has been a visiting artist and many of the area's local schools and is the Visual Arts teacher at St. Finbar School in Burbank as well as the A.P. Studio Art teacher at Providence High School.

Rosalba Acevedo

Artist Bio:

Rosalba is an Honors Member of the Burbank Art Association, as well as a member of the Burbank Fine Arts Federation. As a 12-year BAA member, Rosalba has served for 5 of those years on the BAA Board as Treasurer, currently in the Honors Division. Some of her painting have been sold, as well as donated for fundraising events for St. Joseph Medical Center, the Family Promise organization, as well as the Cabrini Literary Guild. She feels honored and happy to have the opportunity to be part of this important event for the children of Burbank, where she has lived for more than 40 years.

Cameron AcostaArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Annie AdachiArtist Bio:

Annie Adachi was born and currently resides in Burbank, California. She is currently a tenth grader at John Burroughs High School. She is taking her second year of art through classes that Burroughs offers. Annie had no prior art instruction before she entered high school. However, through her art class, she has been able to appreciate art and enjoy the process of creating it. Annie's work is based upon the idea of many points of view. It shows how something boring and simplistic for some people can be exciting and new for others.

Bill AdalArtist Bio:

My name is Bill Adal. I am a retired jeweler. I am a non professional talented artist. Painting is my hobby and I do it to keep myself busy. Hope you like my picture and I am looking forward to donating more pictures next year.

Sophia AdamsArtist Bio:

My name is Sophia Adams. I am eight years old and in the third grade. I love to draw animals and when I grow up, I want to be an artist.

Miguel AdaoArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Arameh Alexander AghakhanianArtist Bio:

Arameh Alexander Aghakhanian is a three years old artist. His favorite colors are green, blue and purple. His favorite food is rice and meat. He loves grandma and grandpa very much. He loves cars and "Lightning McQueen." He also loves "Peppa Pig" and "Team Umizoomi."

Dana AguadoArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Julia AguilaArtist Bio:

When Julia was younger, children's books, cartoons, and an anime called "Card Captor Sakura" greatly influenced her art style at the time. As she grew older, she created characters for the numerous stories that she always made. Currently, music plays a big role in her artwork. Different emotions, stories, and messages thrive in each song, which gives her huge amounts of inspiration. Music artists like Halsey, Charli XCX, and The 1975 inspire much of her current artworks. Realistic portraits are also in her current interest. She believes that realistic portraits show some sort of raw beauty that cannot be obscured. She also believes that all art is found in every object, and that there is always one person in the world who is able to see its true beauty.

Alannah AckersArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Milagro "Milla" AlmarazArtist Bio:

Milagro M. Almaraz was born in Torrance, California in the heart of the El Niño storm in 1998. She lived in the small city of Gardena until she was seven-years-old when her family moved to Burbank to be near her father's job of designing movie posters. Currently she is still a resident of Burbank. She attended Theodore Roosevelt Elementary School, Luther Burbank Middle School, and is currently enrolled at John Burroughs High School as a senior. Milagro, more commonly known as Milla (me-lah), is a Japanese Mexican American who enjoys celebrating Obon and Dia de Los Muertos and is heavily influenced by the two holidays of remembrance. She often combines the two with her three passions: visual art, literary art, and the natural world. She has won blue ribbons at multiple county fairs for her art work, has had poems published, won a poetry slam and jam, and is a volunteer in the education department at the Aquarium of the Pacific. She is currently working towards becoming a novelist and uses her artwork as the basis for her stories.

Leila AltawilArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Rosie AlvaradoArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Max AndrewsArtist Bio:

An animal lover since she was a little girl growing up in rural Western Pennsylvania, Max is dedicated to the work of rescuing, fostering and adopting dogs. Professionally, Max had a 20-year career with TWA as a flight attendant and then went on to head up the sales division of a major durable health equipment company. She served as the first lady of the City of Burbank during the mayoral terms of her husband, David Laurell. Personally, Max enjoys cruises, reading (anything by James Patterson), theater, estate sales and is well-known by her friends as the “go to” person for animal-related questions, if they find a stray, or know someone who wants to adopt a dog. When asked how she handles getting attached to a dog and then letting them go on to a new life, she says that while it can be sad to see them go, she knows they are going on to a wonderful new life with a family that will love them. “It also makes it easier when I think of all the dogs that would otherwise be put down if I don’t constantly make room for more.”

Jason Apinchapong

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Nick Arciaga

www.nickarciaga.com

Artist Bio:

Nick Arciaga is an artist at Nickelodeon Animation Studio in Burbank, California.

Rich Arons

www.richarons.com

Artist Bio:

Rich Arons is a distinguished artist, working in the Animation industry for thirty+ years. Trained in classical drawing, he earned his degree at Cal Arts’ Disney school under the greatest Disney artists. Rich developed, directed and produced hundreds of cartoons for Steven Spielberg including “Tiny Toons”, “Animaniacs”, “Freakazoid!” and “Toonsylvania”, winning 2 Emmy awards, a George Foster Peabody award and a Cartoons on the Bay award. He’s also written songs for several memorable musical cartoons he directed. Rich has also worked on story for several major feature films, in both traditional and CG animation styles. He story directed on Warner’s Space Jam starring Michael Jordan and Bugs Bunny. He helped story develop Twentieth Century Fox’s Ice Age as well as computer animated for Steven Spielberg’s production of Casper. He has written and illustrated a series of children’s books about “TURBIE THE TURTLE-DUCK” and a powerful drawing and animation online course, “Flexing Your Animation Muscles.” Several of his paintings have been auctioned and raised money for worthy charities like Ronald McDonald House Charity the Wounded Warriors Project. Rich’s latest work can be seen at twostupidrobots.com and richarons.com. He also keeps a steady supply of sketches for his 18K plus Instagram followers.

Desiree Arriaga

Artist Bio:

Desiree Arriaga has always considered herself an old soul. She titled this piece “Simply 60’s.” Desiree likes the 60’s because it was definitely a time of change. New ideas, different ways of thinking, and interesting art started to emerged. A revolution was also in the making. She enjoys 60’s music because it makes her feel like a revolution is possible and also like love is in the air. I love 60's pop art. The Civil Rights Movement really interests her. It makes Desiree feel like anything is possible. The hippie movement also captured her attention. The 60's, was really the generation that changed America. She chose the Volkswagen bus as one of her symbols. It was a popular car for the hippie movement. The stems are words written in green. The stems are used to represent the growth and change of this time period. Each word represents something about the 60's. Desiree was born in Simi Valley, California. She started experimenting with art at a very young age. She enjoys using acrylic paint. She uses art as a way to express herself. It provides relaxation for her. She thinks someone's art can possibly reflect a lot about the artist. She hopes to study art or fashion.

Karen Arrigo-Hill

Artist Bio:

Mother of two who firmly believes art is essential for developing children into life-long learners.

Ashley Arroyo

Artist Bio:

This is Ashley's second year participating in Burbank Arts for All Foundation's Secret Art Show.

She has been drawing since the mid-1980's (when she was born). More often she works with charcoal, but has been revisiting painting with Watercolor. She especially enjoys drawing human eyes/faces.

This coming year, she would like to explore portraits of dogs (especially Pitbulls).

Rikke Asbjoern

Aaron Austin

Artist Bio:

Hello, My name is Aaron Austin and I am not a communist. This is the end of my Bio.

Cindy Avila

Artist Bio:

Based in Los Angeles county all her life, Cindy Avila attended California State University of Fullerton where she graduated with a BFA in Illustration while also dabbling in dancing and costume making as hobbies. Cindy started her internship at Nickelodeon in 2013 and is now working full time on the production crew for Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles at Nickelodeon Animation Studio. Cindy's new goal outside of her career is to continue learning to ride motorcycles and take a road trip up the coast.

Lexie Axt

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Danielle BabbittArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Gavin BacaArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Art Student

Ana Bagayan

www.anabagayan.com/#home

Artist Bio:

Ana Bagayan's work is inspired by the metaphysical – E.T.s, aliens, spirits, ghosts, intergalactic space creatures, ethereal beings, anything that hints at the idea that we are just a small part of the unimaginably vast Universe. She defines her work as 'Futurealism' because she believes anything we can imagine, we can manifest into our physical reality. Reality is an illusion created by our minds and we have the power to imagine and create the harmonious Earth that we all want to live on.

Ana was born in Yerevan, Armenia in 1983 and earned a BFA in Illustration from Art Center College of Design in Pasadena. Bagayan's work has shown at galleries all over the world, including Thinkspace, Strychinin, Copro, Subtext, and many others. She lives and works magic in the mountains of Southern California with her husband and two dogs.

Adrineh BaghdassarianArtist Bio:

Adrineh Baghdassarian is an artist and a head fashion designer at Citron Clothing. She loves to sculpt and make art installations .

Lily BaghdassarianArtist Bio:

Lily Baghdassarian is 9 years old. She attends Franklin Elementary lives in Silverlake and loves Art and Music and Poetry.

Tiffany Bakas

www.gorillaartstudio.com

Artist Bio:

As a cosmetologist for 22 years, Tiffany Bakas is familiar with exploring her creative side. Working with people and creating new looks for them has always been rewarding for her. Not long after she became a hairstylist, she attended art classes at her local college. This gave her the opportunity to explore many different artistic techniques, mediums and styles, all of which she loved! Expressing herself creatively became second nature. Tiffany became a scrapbooking teacher at the Burbank Adult School. Working with parents gave her the opportunity to realize how much she enjoyed teaching. She now teaches after school painting and crafting at a number of elementary schools in Burbank. Also, she holds paint parties for adults once a month at DeBell Golf Club. This year, she has opened up an art studio in Burbank (Gorilla Art) which offers workshops, paint parties and specialized classes for all ages. It has been very rewarding for her to work with both adults and children. Her mission is to fuel creativity, ignite imaginations, and illuminate possibilities!

Carolyn Bannos

Molly Bannos

Lilli Barbaduomo

Artist Bio:

My name is Lilli Barbaduomo and I'm 17 years old. At an age where most try to conform, I try to keep an open mind and appreciate the more unique things in life. I hope to become an intelligent and worldly person and I wish to live through experiences and stories which will help me do so. Living and going to school in Italy for two years sparked my interest in new cultures and lifestyles, both so refreshing and inspiring. Since then I have taken 4 years of classes to learn Spanish and about Hispanic culture as well and began lessons in the very interesting language of Mandarin, Chinese. Art is the common bond between all countries, something that can be understood and shared around the world. I have yet to see most of the world, so until then Art is all I have. And that, along with chocolate, is a beautiful thing to have.

Geoffrey Bark

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Amanda Barker

www.robinsfeather.com

Artist Bio:

Hello, my name is Amanda Barker and I am an artist. Movies, books, and stories of all kinds have influenced me and inspired me for as long as I can remember. My elementary school and high school days were filled with creative writing, sketching, and digital painting. With no previous art experience other than what I could teach myself from books or online, I applied to Laguna College of Art and Design. I was blessed to receive admittance as well as a Merit Scholarship. I have spent two years there now, and am beginning my third. The sky's the limit for my future! I hope to take many paths, among them being a comic book illustrator, concept designer, fine artist, portraiture artist, and freelance illustrator under the title of Robin's Feather Illustrations. My favorite mediums to work with of late are pen and ink, graphite, oil painting, and digital painting. More of my artwork can be found at www.robinsfeather.com. Hope to see you at Comic Con one day!

Tom Barlow

www.tombarlow-portfolio.com

Artist Bio:

From Tom Barlow - "I'm an experienced production artist and designer. Part 3-d artist, part concept artist, and with a healthy passion for illustration and graphic design, I love collaborating with small teams of artists, designers and creative directors to forge new content. With a background in traditional art and design, I have strong drawing, composition and level layout skills. I'm also well versed in current generation modeling and texturing processes. I have experience leading, managing and mentored small art teams, and have been responsible for vertical slice demos and major milestones. As a Senior Environment Artist at Insomniac Games. I've shipped over 10 AAA games for PS2, PS3, PS4, Xbox 360 and Xbox1. Recently, we completed the critically acclaimed Sunset Overdrive, in which I was responsible for modeling and texturing various locations and props for the game."

Anna BarsegyanDebby Beck*Julian Bell*Maya Bellow*Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Hazel BenavidesArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Daniela BenianArtist Bio:

My name is Daniela Benian. When painting, especially using water colors, it helps me calm down. Strange how acrylics don't do that. Though perhaps it's probably because of the color tones it provides. Dark, or light, there's a softer feeling to it than when using acrylic paints. These pictures I have made are inspired by different things within the pop culture media- like video games and cartoons. Especially within the sci-fi and fantasy genre. They are the ones that give me the most muse whenever I draw. Originality is important, yes- but who says that you can't use a specific source for inspiration for your pieces of art.

Jeremiah BennettPeter Bennett

www.peterbennettillustration.blogspot.com

Artist Bio:

Peter Bennett has lived in the L.A. area since moving here from San Diego in 1987 to study illustration at Art Center in Pasadena. In 1999, Peter started working as a background painter at Nickelodeon Animation on SpongeBob SquarePants, and became art director in 2003. He lives with his wife and 2 daughters and three dogs in Torrance.

Allie BensonArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Marina BerkovitzArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Annick Biaudet

www.annickbiaudet.com

Artist Bio:

Annick Biaudet is a French artist who has lived in Paris since 1978. She has worked in many different artistic fields from advertising design, children's theater, T.V. series animation and feature animation. However, even with working in all those amazing fields, she has always been drawn to Disney. In only a short time of work with Acme Archives, an official Disney licensee, she has developed into one of their star artists. Annick says : " Ever since I was a little girl I have been fascinated with Disney and was blessed to have an artistic soul. Finally those loves of mine are now one". She now lives between Paris and Los Angeles where she works on many different projects.

Rachel BibbArtist Bio:

Rachel is an artist for Walt Disney Animation Studios. Over the last 20 years, she has worked on animated features, including Lion King, Pocahontas, Mulan, Lilo and Stitch, and Princess and the Frog. Other credits include many shorts, including the award winning Paperman and Feast. She's an alumni of California Institute of the Arts, and has also worked for Warner Brothers TV, Cartoon Network and Nickelodeon.

Maria Bjorkdahl

www.mariabjorkdahl.com

Artist Bio:

Maria Bjorkdahl is a painter who was born in Rabat, Morocco, grew up in Stockholm, Sweden and currently works and lives in Los Angeles. Maria has exhibited at various Southern California venues, including Los Angeles Municipal Art Gallery, The Museum of Latin American Art and Gallery 825. She has had a solo exhibition at The Griffith Park/Los Feliz Senior Center and shown work internationally. Maria is a graduate of Uppsala University and San Francisco State University with BA and MA degrees. She is a member of Los Angeles Art Association and a grant recipient from the Center for Cultural Innovation. This summer she attended an international residency in Sweden: “Tomma Rum” (Empty Rooms).

Christopher Blair

www.chrisblair.net

Maelee Blancaflor

Artist Bio:

My name is Maelee Blancaflor. Art has always been my passion. Through kindergarten even until now, I was always the “artist” of the class, but fun fact; I’ve never taken an art class in my life! This year, I’m an 11th grade high school student with a lot of work on my plate, but listening to Kpop and Fpop helps me. I’m very much inspired by Japanese, French, and Korean culture and you can see it reflected in my art. I hope you all enjoy my piece!

Luke Boehret

Artist Bio:

Luke Boehret was born on August 8th 1998. This is same day that Mark McGuire broke Baseball’s Home Run Record by hitting 70 Home runs. Luke has earned a Black Belt in Taekwondo. One of his favorite celebrities is Chris Angel, the famous Las Vegas illusionist . Luke is not a magician but he does know a few really good card tricks. Luke has been a member of a woodcarving group meeting at the Wild Life Center in Burbank. Luke is presently a senior at Golden Valley High School in Santa Clarita. He has not picked a college yet but he is presently interested in Graphic Arts and according to his art teacher, he is leaning in the right direction.

Mike Boehret

Artist Bio:

Mike Boehret has been in the art field for a number of years. He majored in Fine Arts at California State University, Northridge. He spent a decade working in the Graphic Arts field designing commercial signs, product displays and posters. His posters have been displayed on the cover of Life Magazine as well as in the Metropolitan Museum of Modern Art. His children’s posters depicting several popular nursery rhymes, have been popular since the 1970’s and still are being actively marketed today. Over the years Mike has enjoyed working in a variety of art mediums including drawing, painting, serigraphy, computer graphics, and wood carving. As a creative person Mike has even dabbled a little bit of poetry and supports a creative arts website at HTTP://www.musedroppings.com. Mike presently helps his daughter Tiffany Bakas who is the proprietor of www.gorillaartstudio.com, an organization which conducts after school art classes for children and beginning adults in the Burbank area.

Pam Boehret

Artist Bio:

Pam Boehret grew up in Glendale, California, and has spent all of her life in Southern California.

She is a graduate of Cal State Northridge. Since retiring from Glendale Community College, she has pursued her love of crafting, with such endeavors as scrapbooking, sewing and repurposing old and/or discarded items. Pam has been actively assisting her daughter, Tiffany, with art and craft classes for elementary students here in the Burbank school district. With years of PTA projects and den mother activities, Pam has always been able to take scissors, paint and a scrap of paper and make something special.

Jack Bogart

Artist Bio:

My name is Jack Bogart. I'm a teenager trying to cope with my issues by painting instead of doing healthy things, like talking. In an attempt to convey what I can't put to words I paint surreal representations of my thoughts on fear, pain, solitude, God, motherhood, and the nature of the state. I don't think I'm very good at painting. I don't have any training. All I know is that the only time I really feel at home is when I'm painting. I'll keep painting as long as I can. I'll do whatever I can to make a career out of it. What reason is there to live if you can't feel at home.

Angela Boles

Artist Bio:

Angela M. Boles, born and raised in Southern California, has always had a love for the arts and animals. Her varied background includes floral, graphic and jewelry design. She has studied with many local artists and continues to take classes in several different mediums. She is currently working in the Los Angeles area as a pet care professional, drawing inspiration for her art from her furry clients and creating custom 'pet portraits'.

Erica Bootchk

Artist Bio:

Erica Bootchk is a Burbank community member with children Isaac (BHS, Senior), Satchel (BHS, Freshmen), and Nora (John Muir Middle School, 6th). Her husband Chandler works for Microsoft Corporation. Erica grew up in Silverlake, California, and both she and her husband graduated from the Theatre department at USC. She is currently serving as Secretary for the BHS Boys Basketball team. She truly enjoyed utilizing her love of the arts by being able to help coordinate the clay program at Thomas Jefferson Elementary over that last few years. Helping every child create art and getting to use the kiln has been extremely rewarding. She is truly grateful that she has been able to take part in the students' lives in this way. Now that her children have all moved on from Jefferson, she is still assisting with the kilning of projects, insuring that the school will "clay on."

Michelle Bouse

www.michellebouse.com

Sylvia Bouse

Neysa Bové

neysabov.blogspot.com

Artist Bio:

My name is Neysa Bové, and I am a visual development artist for Walt Disney Animation."

Dani Bowman

www.powerlight-studios.com

Artist Bio:

Dani Bowman founded her company, Powerlight-Studios at age 11. Now 20, she has worked professionally in the animation industry since 14, premiering 5 award winning animated short films at San-Diego Comic-Con each year for the past 4 years, that include voice overs of Joe Mantegna, Tom Kenny (Sponge Bob), and Stella Ritter in her projects, as well as other voice actors on the autism spectrum. Knowing the special talents of people with autism, Dani employs others on the spectrum at Power Light Animation Studios as musicians, artists, and voice actors. Dani combined her six passions, Autism Advocacy, Public Speaking, Animation, Illustration, Fine and Visual Arts, and Teaching Animation to young adults on the spectrum and other disabilities in hopes to inspire them to follow their dreams. Since age 15, Dani has taught summer animation camps around the country, both with Joey Travolta's Inclusion Films camps, and expanding out on her own to show others that anything is possible. Her contributions to the autism community have been acknowledged widely including as the first American with Autism honored at Anna Kennedy's "Wear It for Autism" event in London in October 2014, and the Temple Grandin Award from Future Horizons in 2012. Dani is currently a junior at Woodbury University, studying Animation and Business.

Vivianne Bowman

www.artuntapped.weebly.com

Artist Bio:

Vivianne is a traditionally trained artist who is inspired by the beauty of Nature, and uses the color palette created by the Impressionists. When the weather permits, Vivianne grabs her brushes and paint tubes and goes outside in the field to do Plein Aire paintings. She also taps into her love of history, mythology and fairy tales to create her art. Vivi enjoys telling stories within her artwork. Many of these images are detailed drawings created with ink and colored pencils. Vivianne is skilled in several art techniques and art media; from ink and pens, watercolors, acrylics, oil painting, to working with textiles. Her unique rag dolls are full of playfulness and personality.

Thomas Breeden

www.thomasbreedenart.com

Artist Bio:

Thomas Breeden received his BFA in illustration from Art Center College of Design before continuing his studies at CSU Los Angeles where he received an MA in Painting. Thomas began his art career working at Disney Interactive before moving on to Disney Imagineering, where he worked as a Show Set Designer and Concept Artist for the Tokyo Disney Seas theme park. He currently works in the videogame industry as a 3-D Environment Artist. He is a member of the California Art Club. His oil paintings are influenced by the French, Russian and California impressionists and include landscapes, still lifes and figurative work. Thomas is an avid hiker and traveler and can often be found painting in the local mountains and beaches around his native southern California.

Olivia BreseeArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Beverly BrinkerArtist Bio:

Beverly Brinker has lived in Burbank for the past 45 years. As a child, she would love to draw and while attending Glendale Jr. College, was an art major. Over the past few years , Beverly has been taking water color classes at the Art Center in Burbank under Valya Hristova. She plans to continue taking classes with Valya Hristova. Her passion for water color painting has grown immensely.

Mikki Brisk

www.mikkibrisk.com

Artist Bio:

Mikki Brisk is an artist, a blogger, a singer, a songwriter and a darned good cook. She endeavors to show life from different angles, through words and through paint. Her music has received world-wide play and her art resides in several private collections. The art of living informs her creative choices and inspires her to pursue her finest version of herself.

Having lived all over the country, she now calls Los Angeles home, where she somehow manages to keep her varied interests in balance, even though she's never been to Disneyland.

Karen BroderickKristen Broderick

www.teepublic.com/user/krissyooobear

Artist Bio:

Kristen Broderick is 16 years old, and a junior at Burbank High School. She loves space and has wanted to be an astronaut since she was very young. Kristen has attended Space Camp in Huntsville, Alabama for the past two summers. She has been drawing since she was little and is currently in Art 2 at school. Last year Kristen was part of the Nickelodeon Animation Mentorship Program and created a completely hand-drawn 3 minute animation with the help of her two Nickelodeon mentors, Dina Buteyn (Vice-President of Production) and James Gallego (Previous Art Director on Dora and Friends). Her animation had over 700 hand-drawn 4x6 frames.

W. Earl Brown

www.en.wikipedia.org/wiki/W. Earl Brown

Artist Bio:

Best known for his roles in HBO's DEADWOOD, ABC's AMERICAN CRIME, and THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT MARY, W. Earl Brown comes from a long line of bootleggers and used-car-dealers--the perfect lineage for becoming an actor. After receiving his MFA from DePaul University in Chicago, Earl began working in the Chicago theater scene. Stage roles eventually led to film roles, and Earl moved westward. He now lives in Los Angeles with his wife (who was his high school sweetheart), his daughter and his hound dog. Earl can be seen next in the film BLACK MASS and in AMC's 2016 series PREACHER. For more on Earl, visit https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/W._Earl_Brown

Jamie Butterworth

www.jamie4arts.weebly.com

Artist Bio:

Jamie Butterworth is an artist, arts advocate, and teaches art to children. She believes, "that every person is an artist whether they realize it or not. There are so many different art forms and materials, it's just a matter of finding what resonates with each person." She is a mother of two teenage girls and an active volunteer with the Burbank Art Association and the Burbank Arts for All Foundation. You can see more of her work at www.jamie4arts.weebly.com or contact her at JamieMButter@gmail.com.

Rebecca Butterworth

Artist Bio:

Rebecca Butterworth is a very talented Burbank 9th Grader. She has been an artist from the time she could hold a pencil – intuitively understanding perspective, proportion, composition, and shading. She enjoys drawing, watercolor, and oil painting, as well as swimming and singing in her high school's choir. Rebecca is a member of the Burbank Art Association. You may contact her to let her know you bought/love her art at becca.butter.13@gmail.com

Anthony C.

Artist Bio:

Anthony is an 11-year-old Burbank resident who enjoys word play. Inspired by a large pine cone that appeared on our driveway after a summer downpour, "Pine Cone Artist" depicts a critter named Pine Cone, painting a pine cone.

Serapio Calm

www.serapiocalm.com

Artist Bio:

Serapio Calm is a professional character design animation artist with a passion for designing heroes, funny animals, terrible monsters and battling robots. His professional career spans 12+ years. He was a character designer for The Mickey Mouse Shorts, The 7D and Fish Hooks at Disney TVA. And he designed for Chowder and The Grim Adventures of Billy & Mandy at Cartoon Network Studios. Serapio is currently a designer on the Harvey Beaks Cartoon Series at Nickelodeon.

Michael Campion

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Peter Carltock

www.pcarltock.wix.com/pets

Artist Bio:

Pete Carltock is a 55 year old Burbank resident, who sees everything around him as potential art. Pete likes to take lots of photos and manipulate, enhance, or just refine them to bring out the artistic-ness he imagines to be there. To paraphrase something that Salvador Dali once said, "Some days I feel like I might die from an overdose of imagination." Pete is also very fond of capturing photos and working on images of animals, cats, dogs, horses, etc. Pete thinks that he sometimes imagines the un-imaginable, then tries to manage the task of making it real, using his imagination. Reality is often very boring.

Kathy Carr

www.kathycarr-toon.com

Barbara Carter

www.barbaracarter.com

Artist Bio:

Barbara Carter was born in Livermore, California. When she was 2 her family moved to Los Angeles, where she grew up. Her great love was art, but she elected to study science in college as the more financially practical choice. This led to graduate studies in astrophysics, first in Chicago, later in Boston. In the early 2000's she finally returned to her first love, art. She began painting with dots almost immediately; travel to Australia and exposure to traditional Aboriginal dot paintings only confirmed her instinctive connection to the language of dots. Carter moved back to Los Angeles in 2006, where she lives today with her fiance and two dogs.

Sophia CarterArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Veronica S. Castagnini

www.mystralight.comhttp://veronica-castagnini.crevado.com

www.mystralight.blog.com

Artist Bio:

Veronica Castagnini is a published author, producer, poet, artist, and psychic consultant. Veronica was the founder and former president of Luz Bilingual Publishing Inc. a California public benefit corporation that she created to promote art and literature for 11 years. As an author, she has published several poetry books, served as the director and editor of Luz en Arte y Literatura, an international bilingual magazine, and served as literary translator of several poetry collections and guest of honor at renowned national and international cultural events. Currently, she is a board member of the Burbank Art Association. Through Mystra Light, Veronica has produced and written, "The Four Elements, Los Cuatro Elementos," an instructional meditation DVD in English and Spanish. She has published "Oraculos Antiguos – Tarot" in Spanish; has been interviewed in the documentary "Tarot: The Story" produced by the New York Film Academy, and was the tarot consultant in the short film "Tells Past, Present and Future" by Jeff Prug and produced by USC.

Crista Castro

www.cristac.com

Ronald Catiggay

Juno Cendejas

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Katrina Ceurvorst

Michelle Chabot

www.michellechabot.com

Artist Bio:

Michelle Chabot has been painting for most of her life and has experimented with different types of mediums, but by far her favorite is oil painting. Michelle loves moving the paint around on the canvas to create something from nothing! That moment inspiration kicks in, she cannot deny it. When she paints something that has been haunting the back of her mind, Michelle feels that she has gotten something off of her chest; that she has conquered it. Michelle studied graphic design where she spent a few years, but soon realized her passion was on canvas and that she missed the feel of paint on the brush and a canvas at hand. She is currently focusing on portraits and bringing them to life with their unique personalities. Michelle's goal is to paint them relatively quick and not spend too much time refining them or over working them. She wants them to be rich and creamy with paint and texture. That's the most amazing part of painting - using thick paint to create illusions of reality. Michelle is the Senior Staff Training Officer and Quality Assurance Director at Mission:Renaissance Fine Art Classes. She has been teaching for almost 14 years and enjoys teaching all the kids, teens, adults, instructors and Program Directors. It's super fun to get paid to paint!!

Sahak Chalkdzhyan

Artist Bio:

Hello there my name is Sahak Chalkdzhyan and I'm a senior at John Burroughs High School. I guess I got into art by doodling in my binder and it progressed into something beautiful and I love art till this day. So a little information on my piece I enjoy the concept of ellipses and how it looks cool yet a bigger meaning and I hope whoever buys it can appreciate it. Well thank you for your time and hope that all the other pieces in your show sell.

George Champion

www.gchampion.com

Artist Bio:

George Champion is an actor/singer who has performed leading roles on stages thru-out Southern California. He has always 'dabbled' in drawing as a hobby, including calligraphy and graphic design. To learn more about George, please visit www.GChampion.com THANK YOU!

George ChialtasArtist Bio:

George Chialtas has been an Animation Director so long he's now working with people who watched cartoons he directed when they were kids. He's been on the good ship Nickelodeon since 1994, and currently is Animation Director on the Sanjay and Craig program. George loves to sketch and do watercolors when he travels. When he has time he makes paper sculptures.

Kaylee ChiangArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Alan ChowArtist Bio:

Growing up in a family mainly consisting of medical professions, Alan was a bit of a black sheep in his passion for cartoons and video games. Whether it was true passion or the common trait of going against a parent's wishes, Alan pursued his art education at Cal State University Fullerton. After interning at Cartoon Network and getting a real world taste of the production side of animation, Alan has continued along that path and has been working in production for the last 7 years. He has worked at Film Roman and is now at Nickelodeon. While he doesn't draw as much as he used to, he always tries to find moments of inspiration to test his rusty skills.

David "The Chung!" Chung

www.thechung.com

Artist Bio:

David "The Chung!!" Chung's relatable body of work revolves around the recognition and acceptance of ourselves and our complex human emotions. Occasionally placed in unfortunate and/or awkward scenarios, The Chung!!'s colorful and expressive menagerie of characters are a study of his own personal day to day life. Packed with humor and heart, his work helps remind us to stop taking life so seriously all the time. Instead, take a moment to step back and laugh at what is essentially ourselves. Although born in Albany, New York, David spent the majority of his early childhood in Hong Kong and Taiwan. The remainder of his youth was spent in Upstate New York where he graduated from high school. After attending the University at Buffalo for 2 years, he eventually transferred and graduated from the College for Creative Studies (Detroit, MI) as an illustration major in 2006. Currently residing in Los Angeles with his wife and dog, David's work has been featured in galleries around the world. During the day, when he isn't painting or working on designer toys, David works in the animation industry as a designer. He has worked on shows such as "Futurama", "Robot and Monster", and "Sanjay and Craig."

Frankie CistoneArtist Bio:

Frankie is a 7 year-old 2nd grader at McKinley elementary in Burbank. She likes to make art about when she lost her 1st tooth half way through 1st grade. It was a momentous occasion because she was the last of her friends and classmates to finally lose a tooth!

Mariella CistoneArtist Bio:

Mariella Cistone is a 7 year-old 2nd grader at McKinley Elementary in Burbank. She loves drawing minions and Dave is her favorite. She also loves drawing dolphins because the ocean is her favorite place to be. She hopes you enjoy her art!

Kimberley ClarkArtist Bio:

Kimberley Clark works for the Burbank Unified School District. She has never created an artwork for display but does enjoy doodling on the back of placemats in cafes. Art History was one of her favorite subjects at university and she has seen some of the world's great artworks. None of this, however, has apparently had an salutary effect on the quality of her own art.

Sherm CohenGabby Collins*Marina Common*Dave Cooper*Jasmine Cooper*Ramon Coronel*Susy Cortez*Joanie Coyote

www.joaniecoyote.com

Vera Cranston

David Crocker

Artist Bio:

My name is David Crocker and I consider myself an artist because not only do I like to draw weird and cartoony things but I like to do it in my own way. I also play guitar and bass. Both those instruments in my opinion make very powerful and emotional music. So sometimes I try to think what my favorite guitarist Jimi Hendrix or Zakk Wylde would be thinking off or seeing. In my piece of art I tried to picture what a voodoo child would be seeing. I ended up choosing a clown because most kids either hate or are scared of clowns.

Olivia CroninArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Margarita CulebroArtist Bio:

Margarita Culebro's work is titled "The Observer." She says, "I am a lover of forms and contrasts. I love the colors put together in nature, that is for me the best form of art. I've been traveling and I have lived in many Countries, through the learning of languages I've been able to understand more of the idiosyncrasy of each beautiful place! This painting is a transition of very hardships resolving cleaning and even manifesting a surrendering harmony! The cat is the observer, it could be myself in sweet curiosity."

Dave Cunningham

Seth CyphersArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Dustin d'Arnault

www.heydusty.com

Artist Bio:

Born in Miami, Florida, Dustin d'Arnault was bred on a steady diet of hip-hop, comics and cartoons. He studied illustration at Ringling College of Art + Design and spent two summers enrolled in The Illustration Academy. After this he went to work at Reel FX Creative Studios as an in house Visual Development Artist for a variety of commercial and film projects, most notably: The Book of Life Directed by Jorge Gutierrez. He currently works at Nickelodeon Animation Studios where he spends his days drawing for The Fairly Oddparents and his nights illustrating comics. He enjoys movies, fresh kicks and the occasional “Street Fighter” bout. When not busy with the aforementioned activities, he is available for freelance work. So go ahead, contact him...he dares you.

Mia Datuin

www.mediumgayday.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Mia Datuin is a 17-year-old senior in high school. She was born and raised in Southern California by her parents, who immigrated from the Philippines to pursue careers in the animation industry. Mia also intends to go into animation as either a storyboard artist or a concept designer. Most of her work is done digitally, and can be found at mediumgayday.tumblr.com.

Monica Davila

www.theartofmonicadavila.com

Judy Day

www.suttercreekgallery.com

www.amadorcountyartists.org

Artist Bio:

Judy Day was born and raised in Burbank and attended Burroughs High School. She attended Art Center and CSUN and after graduation taught Art and Math at Jordan Middle School. Judy now lives in Northern California in Jackson, where she has become an award winning watercolor painter. She teaches in a Children’s Art Studio, is a “professional in the classroom” teaching watercolor to 4th graders as a part of the Amador Country Arts Council and California Arts Council Art in Education program. She is part owner of the Sutter Creek Gallery, in Sutter Creek California, and is currently president of the Amador County Art Association.

Anne De Vito

Artist Bio:

Anne De Vito is an award winning artist and oil painter. Her life-long dreams of travel and the love of nature she developed in her childhood has been the inspiration for her work. She expresses these fascinations onto her canvases with bold interpretation. Anne can trace her love of art back to her earliest years with sketching and working with pastels. Involvement with the fine arts and theater highlighted her teen years. Soon after arriving in Los Angeles, Anne sought to explore and grow her innate abilities by reaching out for formal training. She is an active member of her local artistic community and president of the Burbank Art Association. Her work has been included in local exhibits, galleries and private collections. Anne De Vito, a first generation Italian-Canadian, born and raised in Montreal is now living in Southern California with her husband.

Milan Debert

Theo Debert

Lisette Delatorre

Elisa DelgadilloArtist Bio:

My name is Elisa Delgadillo, and I was born in Los Angeles, CA. I've lived in Burbank, CA for 25 years. I have always loved drawing ever since I was a child, and at the age of 3, I'd rather be inside drawing and painting than outside with the other kids playing. I just felt that I was in my own world of art. I graduated from Hollywood High School, attended L.A. City College and 2 years at Otis Art Institute in L.A. I took Advertising, and I completely stopped pursuing a degree in Art from 1981 - 2008. In 2008, I picked up a box of pastels. It was fun to work with and pastels quickly became my favorite medium. I began looking to take a class in pastels but couldn't find anyone teaching it, so I took a class called: "Watercolor Impressions" at the Burbank Creative Art Center and found the best teacher. Her name is Valya Hristova, and she not only teaches watercolor but is very strong and very good in all mediums in art. I have taken her classes in watercolor, and as a teacher she urged me to use other mediums like watercolor and different techniques. I am grateful and very lucky to have found a teacher with such a strong background in art.

Benny DelgadoArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Miguel A DelgadoArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Sharon DellamarieArtist Bio:

Sharon Dellamarie is a Burbank resident who has loved drawing and painting since she was a young child when her grandmother gave her her first oil painting set, in Chicago in 1948. She also enjoys assembling collages. She is a member of the Burbank Art Association and the Fine Arts Federation. Painting in many different styles and making collages is a huge joy for her, and being with other artists is stimulating and adds to the creative process. She paints mostly with acrylics, and also incorporates using markers and India ink.

Nancy DerbyArtist Bio:

Nancy, her mother, and her siblings always enjoyed art in many forms. This environment taught her to appreciate and experiment with art. Using her camera Nancy often captures inspiration in the world which leads to her next painting. Life's challenges put Nancy's love for experimenting with art aside for awhile, but in the last 10 years she has taken up the brushes and got busy again. Nancy owes a lot of credit to many artist colleagues, workshops, art sessions and demonstrations, books, and art shows. Currently she is a member of Kings Point Art League, and Sun City Center Art Club, of Florida. Recently, Nancy was accepted as a signature member to the Florida Suncoast Watercolor Society. Nancy enjoys various mediums and techniques but watercolors are her favorite. Her variety of subjects are done in traditional, contemporary, and abstract form. Of course, Nancy is always opened to more experimenting!

Avedis Dermerderosian

Frank Dietz

www.sketchythingsart.com

Artist Bio:

Inspired at age 6 by a viewing of ABBOTT & COSTELLO MEET FRANKENSTEIN, Frank Dietz has found success in the film industry as a writer, producer, director, actor and animator. He attended the State University at Oswego in New York, where he majored in theatre and art. In 1996, Frank joined Walt Disney Studios as an animation artist. His work can be seen in such films as HERCULES, MULAN, TARZAN, FANTASIA 2000, ATLANTIS - THE LOST EMPIRE, TREASURE PLANET and HOME ON THE RANGE. During this period Frank created the Sketchy Things series of classic monster sketchbooks, which became extremely popular with genre fans. In 2007 and 2008, Frank was awarded the very first Rondo Hatton Classic Horror Awards for "Artist Of The Year." He recently published a comprehensive collection of his artwork, "Sketchy Things: The Art of Frank Dietz," His website is www.sketchythingsart.com.

Rainy Diforte

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Rod Serranzana (Digo S.)

www.rodsartgallery.com

Artist Bio:

My name is Rodrigo Yardley Serranzana. I sign most of my work as Digo S. I am from the Philippines and have been living in the U.S. for 42 years and served the U.S. army for 4. I always loved art. I always thought that it would be difficult and time consuming, but when I tried it, the things I could do with it amazed me. It's not just work to me, it's my passion. I studied graphic design and computer design. I attended Platt College for Graphic Designs, and studied Life Drawing at Los Angeles Valley College. I fell in love with oil painting when I got older. There was something about the brush and paint that was so mesmerizing. It made me want to explore and I found my strength in Oil painting and charcoal. I have taken classes from Christina Forster-Ramos for Acrylic painting, and Julie Snyder for Impressionist oil painting and Aaron Westerberg for oil painting. I also taken a Sculpture class from Karen Cope. I'm honored to have such a great teachers. I am currently a member of Glendale Art Association and Burbank Art Association. Since I've been a member, I've won awards with Glendale Art Association and Burbank Art Association for:

Kea Nani (oil on canvas), Jade (oil on canvas), Sting Like a Bee (oil on canvas), Raven (oil on canvas), The End (oil on canvas), My Colors (oil on canvas), Masters (charcoal on paper), and Facial Studies (charcoal on paper). I've done commision work, and am available for more painting; anything from still life's, and landscapes, to portraits of people and pets. I am honored to show my work. Thank you.

Katie DixonArtist Bio:

Katie Dixon has been painting for over 30 years. Her works have been featured in several community art shows, as well as art shows at her own home here in Burbank.

She was very influential in the creation and development of the Burbank Art in Public Places Ordinance which was founded in 1992. It requires that 1% of major construction projects costs be allocated towards on-site art or, if desired, in the Public Art Fund, which is utilized to enhance or maintain art location on public land.

She continues to paint and sketch daily, gladly donating this piece today to support the Secret Art Show fundraiser, part of Burbank Arts for All.

Diem Doan

www.deechisketch.tumblr.com

Alex DolmanArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Barry DrakeArtist Bio:

Barry is a professional computer geek and dance instructor, as well as amateur astronomer and artist. He inherited his love of astronomy from his father and spends many nights gazing upward and wishing for clear, dark skies. He has lived in the Los Angeles area since 1983.

Milan DuguilArtist Bio:

My name is Milan Duguil. I am 17 years old, and I am a senior at John Burroughs High School in Burbank, CA. I like to sing, dance, and perform. I am a part of the John Burroughs High School show choir. I also love sports, and was a part of the John Burroughs swim team for two years. I have done previous sports and have done choir in my past as well. I am a very involved person, and I just love the arts in general! I have always loved to color and draw ever since I was little. I like to doodle every so often now a days, and I think I'm pretty good at it, so I think sending my drawing to the Secret Art Show is a good idea for me!

William Joseph Dunn

www.artofwjd.com

Artist Bio:

New Jersey native William Joseph Dunn relocated to Los Angeles in 1997 to paint backgrounds for animation. Since then, he has worked for such studios as Disney, Warner Bros., Nickelodeon, and Sony Animation, as well as providing illustration for live action movies and film. When not working for the studios, WJD works on his galley paintings. He has an Instagram account that documents those works in progress: <https://instagram.com/artofwjd/>

Lauryl Duplechan

Artist Bio:

Laurel Duplechan is a video editor who lives in Venice, California. She began doing artwork at the behest of her longtime employer who begged her to go into a different line of work, and has been honing her creative skills in street art in an effort to get back at him.

Andrea Duran

Artist Bio:

Andrea Duran was born in Hollywood, California in 1998. She attends John Burroughs High school in Burbank, California where she also currently resides. She lives with her two brothers, sister, and mother. Although she has not had much time to draw or paint, she hopes to do more in the future.

Caila Duran

Artist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Samantha Eaton

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Serenco Ecaterina

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Dylan Ekren

www.sketchlab.net

Jose Elizarraras

Artist Bio:

Hello my name is Jose Elizarraras, I am an amateur artist and I work as a security officer at the Disney Studios here in Burbank. I have been drawing for about five months now and have only been doing it as a hobby. The inspiration for my art piece is the fact from the up and coming Star Wars movie and I decided to add a small twist to the whole idea by drawing a Winnie the Pooh bear in Wookiee form, hence "Wookiee the Pooh & BB8."

C. Jeannette Elliott

www.jelliottstudio.wix.com/papergirl

Artist Bio:

C. Jeannette Elliot - For over two decades I have taught drawing to students ...young men and women whose primary goal is to gain acceptance into the top art schools in the United States. I believe that anyone...anyone....who wants to fulfil that dream can do so...and I can get help them there. I am a hand-papemaker, printer and print-maker, book artist and painter. I love photography...my mother was a photographer... and I have felt that everything magical and beautiful in my art for me happens on paper. I love to share that beauty with others...whether teaching a class or exhibiting my work.

June Elmore

Artist Bio:

June Harper Elmore is a passionate artist. Recently a "Grabbit" arcade game took her 2 quarters without giving her a chance to play. It nearly ruined her day, but she decided to go home and make art. The result was a passionate piece about anger and frustration. June lives in Burbank and attends second grade at Edison Elementary. She still brings quarters to the arcade.

Tyler Erickson

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Art Student

Leone Ermer

www.leoneermer.com

Artist Bio:

Hi! My name is Leone Ermer and I'm an interactive artist living in Los Angeles. I am passionate about using design and technology to create thoughtful, engaging works of art. My goals in life include designing something that goes into space and learning ASL so that I can have a discussion with a monkey.

Leone Ermer

www.leoneermer.com

Marshelly Escalante

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Emily EskidjianArtist Bio:

Hello! My name is Emily Eskidjian. I'm an artist who will be entering the Secret Art Show. I'm 17 years old and a senior at Burbank High School. My hobbies include, drawing, listening to music, and goofing around on my computer. I spend most of my spare time practicing my drawing skills and figuring out what art style is best suited for me. I have a passion for art in general and when I grow up I hope to become a cartoonist or an animator.

Marvin EstradaArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Alyssa FajardoArtist Bio:

Hello! My name is Alyssa Nicole Fajardo. I grew up in Burbank, California and I was raised by my mom and my two brothers, JuanCarlos and Andy. In third grade I began to play the piano and have been playing for the past eight years. I love the sounds of each and every key. The music that the piano makes is so beautiful and I love all the stories that each piece tells. Music has always been involved in my family's life. My two uncles, both my brothers, and I all have something that we do relating to playing and creating music. I've also continued the tradition of being in the school's marching band, after both my uncles and mother. I am in the band's color guard. In third grade I also decided I wanted to be an obstetrician/gynecologist for my career. Ever since I have been looking for colleges with pre-med programs and plan to go straight into a four year college. I'm currently in my junior year of high school and am getting ready to start applying to many colleges!

Peter Ferik

Mina Ho Ferrante

www.minahoferrante.com

Carol FinkleArtist Bio:

Carol Cutter Finkle is the president of the Burbank Fine Arts Federation, a support group for the Creative Arts Center and the arts in Burbank. She served on the organizing committee for the Arts for All program and is pleased that "the arts" are now a part of every Burbank students' curriculum. She enjoys experimenting with fused glass, especially the brilliant results of dichroic glass.

Kathy Flynn

www.wickedgoddessphotography.com

Artist Bio:

Two things Kathy Flynn has loved her entire life are music and photography. She started in the early eighties, when she bought her first 35mm camera and shot up and coming bands at the Hollywood club scene, including bands like Depeche Mode and Sparks. After a long hiatus, she returned to concert photography in 2011, starting Wicked Goddess Photography. As for the music part...she loves bands, she loves listening to music, and most of all, she loves seeing a good band perform live. There's nothing like the energy buzz you get from a passionate performance. She sees as many bands live as she can. There's little in life Kathy loves more than trying to distill the essence of a live performance into a single photograph.

Peggy Flynn

Michael ForanArtist Bio:

Michael Foran is an artist/interactive designer and graduate of the Art Institute of Portland. He currently works and resides in southern California.

Palmer FrankelArtist Bio:

Palmer Frankel is an LA native and recently started watercolor. Palmer thought a small piece of art with Burbank high and surfers would be fun.

Palmer is happy to support art in schools.

Gavin Freitas

www.slaptoons.com

Artist Bio:

Gavin Freitas is from Hayward, CA. He graduated from Mt. Eden High School and received his degree in animation at the Academy of Art University in San Francisco. He has done storyboard work for MGM on Pink Panther and Pals, pilots for Futurama studios, pilots for Howie Mandel and NBC, storyboards and animation on Comedy Central's Brickleberry, and storyboards on Nickelodeon's famed hit, "Fairly Oddparents."

When Gavin's not busy with drawing, he's raising animals on his farm. That's it for now!

Nate FrenchArtist Bio:

Nate French is currently a 7th Grader at John Muir Middle School. Nate has great ambitions of becoming a Storyboard Artist. Nate got his artistic beginnings drawing on walls at his parents home and has been drawing constantly since he was a toddler. Nate is an avid reader with a fondness for comic books and enjoys acting in drama classes. Nate has created his first comic book series titled "Captain Mustard" and is currently shopping for publishers. Nate is grateful for the art programs that have helped him develop his talents and encouraged creativity.

Marjorie Fuchs

Artist Bio:

This is Marjorie Fuchs' second year as a Secret Artist for The Secret Art Show. She grew up in Burbank attending Disney Elementary School, known at that time as Central Elementary School. Marjorie then went to David Starr Jordan Junior High and graduated from John Burroughs High School. She has lived in Burbank almost her entire life raising children here and they, too, attended the Burbank schools from Mommy and Me preschool classes on up to graduating from John Burroughs High. A couple of years ago Marjorie and two of her friends decided to enroll in art classes offered through the Burbank Adult School. They wanted to try acrylic painting classes and then moved on to drawing classes that were both offered at the Adult School. The classes peaked their creative minds and they were encouraged by the instructor to enter the Secret Art Show last year, which they did. Marjorie paints what brings her joy to look at - ocean scenes, sunsets, palm trees, flowers. This year she submitted two paintings both created with acrylic paints.

Mike Gabriel

Artist Bio:

Mike Gabriel has been working on Walt Disney animated features for 30 years. He has served as director on two feature films for Disney—"The Rescuers Down Under"(1991), and "Pocahontas" (1995). Born in Long Beach, California, he took his first animation class at Golden West Junior College (Huntington Beach, California), and made his first contact with the Disney Studios when he was just 18. Determined to become a Disney animator, he finally got the chance and began working there as an assistant on "The Fox and the Hound." He went on to animate on "The Black Cauldron," "The Great Mouse Detective" (for which he designed the supporting dog and cat players, Toby and Felicia), and Oliver & Co." On the latter, he served as supervising animator, and also contributed to story and character design. His unit was responsible for much of the exciting chase scene that serves as the film's finale, and Dodger's song, "Why Should I Worry." Of late, he has made an international award winning and Oscar nominated short film called "Lorenzo"(2004) and had the honor to be asked to conceive, design and direct the opening castle logo redo for all Walt Disney Studios film releases that opens every film beginning with a star in the sky. He has recently finished serving as Art Director on the 2012 feature film release from Walt Disney Studios called "Wreck It Ralph." Currently he is serving the same role as Art Director now renamed Production Designer on the upcoming 2016 Disney feature film release, title not disclosed for the public yet.

Gwen Gagnon

Artist Bio:

My name is Gwen Gagnon. I am in 11th grade and I attend Monterey High School. I doodle and listen to music in my free time. As you can tell, animals play a big role in my life. I love them and I hope to work with them in my career.

Katherine Galera

Artist Bio:

Katherine Galera is currently a senior at John Burroughs High School.

Johnathon Gallagher

www.gallagrafix.com

Artist Bio:

Johnathon Gallagher is a creative, versatile artist who lives and works in Burbank. His website, gallagrafix.com, showcases many areas of his expertise. Trained in the theater as a set painter and a scenic artist, he also ventured into the Decorative Arts Restoration field and is best known for his restoration work at the Bullock's Wilshire Building, LA's Art Deco jewel of the city. Johnathon also creates digital art, motion graphics, and 3D animation. He currently enjoys teaching drawing and painting classes part time at the C.A.C, Burbank's Municipal Gallery, as well as crafting original ceramics vessels and objects d'art.

Chris Garbutt

www.phooley.blogspot.com

Gerardo Garduño

www.vibrararte.wordpress.com

Artist Bio:

These windows on the postcard are a series of events that are developed on geometrically universal structures. These structures support each element that lives inside them and aesthetic order. Gerardo Garduno's references are to the iconography of Mexican culture, surreal scenes, a jungle of moods and stereotypes. His concerns for the planet are reflections that are represented in the images of the drawings that go from organic to synthetic or call consumer culture and environmental and spiritual consciousness. In these drawings Gerardo drew a line of hope in humanity through a powerful tool as art.

Douglas Gates

www.douglasgatespaintings.blogspot.com

Artist Bio:

Douglas Gates says, "So I was born in San Diego in 1950. Then we built a house in Rustic Canyon in Pacific Palisades. Then we moved to Virginia...But I have just kept moving. I went to college in Athens, Ohio.I have painted my entire life. Usually bigger than this but a bunch this size too, mostly gouache, ink pencil, charcoal, that sort of thing. We live just outside of Chicago now. I like it. I've done a bunch of shows here, did a bunch in Ann Arbor, blah blah blah, etc. I just paint in the d'Artagnon tradition, get the paint on the paper and move on, get it done fast and think about other things... I also like collage a lot but I'm not submitting any...I'm sort of sick of them right now cause I just made a book of them which was several hundred plus a lot of charcoal and pencil work."

Knar Geghamyan

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Jack Generosa

Sam Generosa

Andy Gersh

www.andygersh.com

Artist Bio:

Andy Gersh is a glass artist, and resident of Burbank for the past 12 years. He studied animation and filmmaking at CalArts where he developed a love of design and color relationships that he continues to incorporate in all of his artwork. "This is not your Grandmother's stained glass" is Andy's motto as his work maintains an organic and contemporary style. He gets great satisfaction when he implements new techniques that further push his own artistic merits. Andy's work has been seen on many television shows, films and in hotels, restaurants and personal collections throughout the world. His artwork ranges from jewelry, platters and wall art to other home furnishings. Andy was honored in 2010 with a one-man show at Burbank's Creative Arts Center where he displayed 100 original pieces of art. He is excited to get involved with Burbank Arts for All, and participate in his first Secret Art Show. More of his work can be seen at www.andygersh.com

Rhiannon Giever

Artist Bio:

Rhiannon Giever is a senior at John Burroughs High School, who's pursuing their dream of becoming a character designer and story writer at Cartoon Network. Also known as 'NightSmudge' on DeviantArt, she has a variety of characters and creatures, from magical beings to the strangest of aliens, each with their own story to tell. She's often silly and optimistic, with a big imagination. (Current age: 17)

Dan Glassman

www.danglassman.com

Artist Bio:

Dan Glassman is the creator and artist behind the TWURF app (TWURF.com) and has been an avid doodler since high school algebra. His post-verbal blog, IWorkOnWorkAtWork.com, ran from 2011 until he stopped getting around to posting in 2013 and chronicled the complexity of mans' emotions at mind-numbing jobs, while making use of the free sticky notes and ballpoint writing implements. In addition to doodling, Dan paints, sketches and writes. His groundbreaking animated film, "Mitt Vs. Mitt," succeeding in bringing the issue of chronic flatulence into the healthcare debate and is widely considered to have furthered the marketplace of ideas on such matters (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4VuX8N0SD3k>). Dan is still getting around to putting together a cohesive website of all his work, but in the meantime invites you to enjoy more of his ballpoint pen portraits on pinterest (<https://www.pinterest.com/danglassman/>).

Chelsea Glaze

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Gene Goldstein

www.genegoldstein.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Gene Goldstein is a robot programmed to animate and give slammin' high fives! He is currently churning out backgrounds for The Loud House on Nickelodeon, while working on his own project, Planet Panic.

Miranda Goldstein

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Ariana (Argo) Gomez

www.instagram.com/aryanaxx7

Artist Bio:

Ariana (Argo) Gomez is 26 years old. Born in LA, grew up in Mexico, Reno, and Chicago. Just an ordinary gypsy soul who loves to paint. Started exploring watercolors in May 2015, and I've fallen deeply in love with the fluidity and transparency of this medium.

I've taken occasional art workshops at my local art museum, but mainly self-taught. The art piece donated to Burbank's Secret Art show is No.1 in my new series: "EYE will undress you". Inspired by spiritual awakening, being aware and honoring our intuition (third eye chakra), and seeing the connections between ourselves and every other soul we encounter. Namaste.

Ivan A Gomez

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Andrew Gonzalez

Diana Gonzalez

Artist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Jackie Gonzalez

Artist Bio:

Jacqueline Gonzalez was born in Panorama City, California in September of 1998. She is currently a senior at John Burroughs High School in Burbank, California. She aspires to get a bachelor's degree in fashion design or in TV set design from FIDM. She admires the work of Claude Monet, Keith Haring, Frida Kahlo and Andy Warhol. Jacqueline was inspired by her Grandparents vibrant house in Guadalajara, Mexico as well as French gardens, specifically the ones in the Palace of Versailles. Her painting is set on the second floor in mysterious house overlooking a beautiful and nostalgic scenic garden at night. You can let your imagination go from there.

Jean Graham

Artist Bio:

Jean Graham has been drawing, painting, making collages, and putting together other art for over 40 years. Recently, Jean has been making collages combined with painting and drawing.

Vivian Lee Green

Artist Bio:

Vivian Lee has been a teacher in Los Angeles since 1999, bringing creativity and her love of art into the classroom. She has studied at NYC, Cal State Fullerton, Fashion Institute of Technology, Otis College of Art and Design, Art Center of Pasadena, among other places. Vivian's work has shown at galleries all over Southern California.

Ryan Green

www.instagram.com/ryangreenart

Artist Bio:

Ryan Green is a story artist at the Walt Disney Animation Studios in Burbank, CA. You can see more of his artwork at <http://instagram.com/ryangreenart>.

Jennifer Greene

www.jsgreene.com

Artist Bio:

Jennifer Smith Greene is originally from and lives currently in Burbank, California with her husband Gavin and daughter Alice. Jenny completed her undergraduate degree from Woodbury University in Graphic Design. She has worked as a graphics & web designer, both as an in-house and freelance designer. She also has completed a Master of Divinity (MDiv) degree from Princeton Theological Seminary. She currently works as a Graphic Designer with OPM Design. Jennifer Smith Greene has always had an interest in drawing and painting. Her first serious interaction with watercolors came in a drawing class at Woodbury University. While Jenny was working as a graphic designer, she began taking watercolor classes as an outlet for artistic creativity. Ever since, Jenny has been happily creating watercolors and has been commissioned by businesses, organizations and individuals for specific works. Jenny has also been commissioned to do plein-air demonstrations. Additionally, Jenny is active in the community and volunteers her time with the Burbank Parent Education Program, as well as with Family Promise of the Verdugos, a social service nonprofit dedicated to helping homeless children and their families by providing shelter and support services to help the families find jobs and housing.

Serene Greene

www.serenegreene.com

Artist Bio:

My family origins were in Los Angeles and I was raised in Oregon. I divide my life between Los Angeles and Portland. I am always working on new images and visual vocabulary to express within my large abstract paintings. I am fascinated by the layering of history and experiences, and the visual memories left behind in the cultural and architectural landscape. The textures and forms in cities and streets create a visual landscape to be interpreted into the lines and notes. One of my greatest influences is a life-long love of Jazz. My work is a visual soundtrack, calligraphic in nature, and fused with the emotions of color. Created with successive layers of images, written messages, texture and color, they fuse techniques of painting and drawing, and represent the excavating of secrets and unrevealed life. I lived and exhibited in England, Canada and the US . Works are represented by Seattle Art Museum Gallery, Amy Caplan Arts in Portland and ArtPool LA, in Los Angeles.

Natasha Greenhaw

Artist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Julie Grené

Artist Bio:

Julie Grené's sister coined the term "Librartist" to describe her. She enjoys her job as a high school Library Coordinator as she would a hobby and art is her "other hobby" so she become a Librartist. Lately Julie finds herself working with mixed media and artwork involving letters, fonts, and quotes - very Librartist appropriate! She strives to inspire the students in many ways. Julie doesn't have a website yet but is working on an Etsy shop!- Watch for Rainbow Sleeves shop.

Naomi Griffin

Artist Bio:

My name is Naomi Griffin and I am a young artist who creates realistic art for the fun of it. I've been drawing since I was really young, and I've always been into comic books, TV, and movies because it puts ideas from your imagination into something that everyone can see. It's its own art in itself and that's why I've always had respect for it. So I decided that I wanted to do that as well and that's what I did. I've progressed a lot, putting more detail, time and effort into my work, and now I want to make it my future because it's something I enjoy. My art is on Instagram @xena.griffins_art and if you would like to contact me my email is biggestxfan@gmail.com. Thank you!

Emily Grosstephan

Artist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Jaclyn Grubin

www.instagram.com/jaclyngrubinart

Artist Bio:

Jaclyn Grubin is an art student studying at Academy of Art University in San Francisco. She is focusing on Concept Design for film and television designing environments and the characters within the worlds she creates. Her style is expressive and impressionistic having few details in focus to have the viewer discover their way through her pieces. She wants the complexity and the simplicity of a piece to determine the storyline and profile for her audience. She also freelances in illustration and fine art painting with pieces that reflect the immediate nature and the interaction between man and woman in nature.

Jagger Guerin

Artist Bio:

Jagger Guerin is a 12 year old that attends Jordan Middle School. He loves to draw and loves to re-create famous character costumes into his own style.

Diana Guieb

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Tamara Guion

www.tamaraguion.com

Artist Bio:

Originally from Catalina Island, Tamara Guion is a Southern California based Artist and Illustrator that specializes in mystic themes and symbolism and animals. Heavily influenced by Medieval Icons and because of her strict Catholic upbringing, she enjoys finding and exploiting the irony and humor in many religious concepts. In addition, she also loves to incorporate contemporary themes while still conveying an old world feel to her paintings. She holds a BFA with honors in Illustration from the Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, California. Her work has been used internationally in magazines, newspapers and books throughout the United States and Europe and she routinely exhibits her paintings in galleries in and around the greater Los Angeles area.

Jennifer Ha

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Eric David Haddad

www.instagram.com/ericdavidhaddad

Artist Bio:

Eric David Haddad is a professional drawer of characters, animator in the 2nd dimension, avid sketch booker, husband and father of one tiny boy. Eric has spent most of his career making 2D animated video games for consoles like XBOX and Playstation, and some for your phones. He recently jumped into the animation industry at Nickelodeon to chase after his love of animated humor. You can find some of his animation on his Instagram page @ericdavidhaddad.

Alec Jordan Hagopian

Tony Hale

Artist Bio:

Emmy Award winning actor and author Tony Hale is best known for his role as Gary Walsh, the downtrodden personal aide to Julia Louis-Dreyfus's Vice President Selina Meyers on HBO's Emmy Award winning political comedy, Veep. Hale won two Emmys for Outstanding Supporting Actor in a Comedy Series in 2013 and 2015.

Prior to Veep, Hale appeared in a wide variety of critically acclaimed television programs and films including Arrested Development, The Heat alongside Sandra Bullock and Melissa McCarthy and American Ultra with Kristen Stewart and Jesse Eisenberg.

Up Next, Hale will be seen in Alvin and the Chipmunks: Road Chip along with Jason Lee, Justin Long, Matthew Gray Gubler and Jesse McCartney and heard in Angry Birds with Bill Hader and Danny McBride.

Karmen Haley

Artist Bio:

About Karmen Haley - I am a sixteen year old student attending John Burroughs High School. I was born and raised in Burbank. I am an only child, unless my three year old dachshund chihuahua mix counts as a younger sibling. I have a huge love for dogs as well as most animals. If I had more time and space, I would want to have many more animals. In my free time, I like to read, work out, watch movies, or simply enjoy time with my friends. Friends and family mean a lot to me, and they impact my life substantially. They inspire me to achieve great things. I have always had a love for the arts whether it's drawings, paintings, sculptures, or even pieces of literature. I also have a love for the outdoors and the wonderful things life has to offer. The piece that I am submitting combines these two things. In two years, I will be graduating high school, and I hope that whatever route I take includes intriguing works of art and life's many beautiful gifts.

Maggie Hallwww.maggiethemoon.comwww.chrisandmaggie.netArtist Bio:

Maggie Hall was born and raised in the San Fernando Valley, and now resides in Burbank. She aspires to become a published children's book author and illustrator and is currently working on two books. She would also love to contribute to a children's television show as a background artist and/or writer. She has been working as a singer-songwriter in a local folk, pop, singer-songwriter, duo, Chris & Maggie for 3 1/2 years and they've performed at Special Olympics 2015 World Games, OC Fair, The Whisky, The LA Zoo, Musician's On Call events for hospitalized children, etc. She is also a blogger and regularly blogs about her love of fashion on maggiethemoon.com. Keeping art alive in public schools is one of the causes Maggie deeply cares about as she has worked in schools and with children in grades K-12 as a behavioral therapist and language arts tutor. One of Maggie's dreams is to establish a school of the arts for children with and without learning disabilities to visit after school in order to provide them with an outlet for their own dreams.

Narek HarutyunyanEddy Hay*Artist Bio:

My name is Eddy Hay and I live in Burbank. I'm in 5th grade and I really like to draw monsters and creatures. You can often find me playing with friends or playing sports. I also like playing drums and video games.

Jiny Hewww.mykorisa.comArtist Bio:

Jiny is currently a Color Stylist on Sanjay & Craig at Nickelodeon. She has also worked as a color stylist on Fairly Odd Parents, Robot and Monster, background painter on Bob's Burgers, and designer in Australia on Mattel's Polly Pocket. Having lived around the world, growing up in countries such as China, Australia, and America, Jiny's works showcase her strong appreciation for nature and culture. When not painting at home or working at her daytime job in animation, Jiny likes to volunteer at the Best Friends LA Animal Society. For more of her works please visit www.mykorisa.com.

Liana Heewww.lianahee.tumblr.comArtist Bio:

Liana Hee is a Bay Area native currently living and working as a designer at Nickelodeon Animation Studio in Los Angeles, CA. She has been creating art for most of her life and her favorite medium to work with is gouache on watercolor paper.

Josie Heidenreich

Artist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Alexandra Helfrich

Artist Bio:

Alexandra Helfrich is a passionate advocate for Arts in Education. When her daughter started elementary school in 2004, Alexandra realized that there were no arts programs in the school, no art teacher, no instrumental music. She sought out grant opportunities and began to fundraise to bring arts back into the classroom. Working with other parents, PTA and Booster organizations, she was part of a movement in the Burbank Unified School District to provide opportunities so that every student could experience visual art, dance, theater, music, and media arts. Through these collaborations, art programs grew at school sites, after school programs grew and provided more access and opportunities for children to be creative learners. She's been a member of the Burbank Arts for All Foundation since 2007 and served as co-chair from 2010 through 2013, to inspire Burbank to build the finest arts education program in the country. In addition, Alexandra Helfrich has over 15 years of experience working in the motion picture and television industry.

Kyra Helfrich

Artist Bio:

Kyra Helfrich is a 17-year-old artist living in Burbank, CA with her family where she grew up surrounded by the arts in her home. Kyra has studied at the Summer Art Academy, Burbank Creative Arts Center, The Pasadena Art Center College of Design and with Luther Middle School teacher Debra Reynolds and John Burroughs High School teacher Beth Morrison. This summer, Kyra completed the highly competitive UCLA Science/Art NanoLab Summer Institute challenging traditional, polarized perspectives of the arts and sciences. She also participated in the Slam Poetry Camp at Gustavus Adolphus College where her poetry was published in the Summer 2015 Chapbook. Kyra is an award winning competitive swimmer, accomplished musician, frequent gamer, and remains curious about the world. This is her third year as a Burbank Arts for All Secret Artist.

Mark Helfrich

Artist Bio:

MARK HELFRICH is a director, film editor, and photographer. He is known for editing the "Rush Hour" movies, "X-Men: The Last Stand," "Red Dragon," "Hercules," "Scary Movie," "Showgirls," "Predator," "Rambo: First Blood II," and many other feature films. Directing credits include movie "Good Luck Chuck," and episodes of "Bones" and "Prison Break." Mark is a collector of contemporary artwork, passionate music lover and devoted family man.

Téa Helfrich

Artist Bio:

Téa Helfrich is 14-year-old artist living in Burbank, CA with her family where she grew up surrounded by the arts in her home. Téa has studied at the Summer Art Academy, Burbank Creative Arts Center, the Burbank School of the Ballet, Red Chair Dance, Media Center Ballet, and is currently studying with Reach Dance Academy. She loves nothing more than putting on a show! Most recently she was in the Corps de Ballet for the Creation Dance Theatre production of “Sleeping Beauty” at the Colony Theatre. This summer Téa attended the School of Creative and Performing Arts where she wrote, directed, and edited two short films. In December, Téa will be dancing in “The Nutcracker” for the 5th year. She's delighted to be a Secret Artist.

Audrey Herbertson

www.depop.com/audreyii

Artist Bio:

I'm Audrey Herbertson, a senior at John Burroughs High. I was inspired by Marvel comics, 1970s Glam , and David Bowie. I also make upcycled clothing and jewelry at depop.com/audreyii

Jill Herbertson

www.spoonflower.com/profiles/artgarage

Artist Bio:

Jill Herbertson studied painting at the Art Students' League and the Studio and Forum of Stage Design in New York. She worked as a scenic painter for many years, and currently creates fabric designs at <http://www.spoonflower.com/profiles/artgarage>.

Ronald Herbst

Artist Bio:

Ronald Herbst was born in Chicago, Illinois, received a BA in Studio Design at Stanford University and moved to Los Angeles after college to work in the entertainment industry. After a few years doing such varied jobs as prop wrangling and screenwriting for low budget films, office temping in the Disney legal department and assistant modelmaking in boutique miniatures effects houses, he began working as a concept and storyboard artist on such films as George of the Jungle and Dante's Peak. He made the switch over to digital working on the Amblin-produced sci fi TV show Seaquest DSV, and shortly thereafter was hired by Digital Domain, where he has worked for the past seventeen years. Today he is a Computer Graphics Supervisor at DD, creating visual effects for mostly commercials and some feature films. He lives in Atwater Village with wife, Eleanor and three children.

Ariana Hernandez

Artist Bio:

Hello! My name is Ariana Hernandez, I am a 10th grade student at Burbank High School. I am taking Animation 2 and have a passion for art and animating. In the future, I aspire to be a storyboard artist or a 2d animator. I plan to pursue my ambition to make it to my dream job by focusing on creating art that will inspire others and spark ideas for future talented artists, meanwhile putting effort to my own development and growth as an artist myself. I hope my art is visually pleasing and inspiring to its audience!!!

Aidan HillArtist Bio:

4 ½ year old who gets his inspiration from his brother, but he chooses to blaze his own trail.

Brian Hill

www.bhill220.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Brian loves cartoons. As a kid, he fell in love with them as soon as his dad introduced him to Looney Toons and his mom started taking him the local comic shop near his elementary school. Since graduating from Cal State Northridge as a Television Production Major, Brian has been working in production at Nickelodeon Animation Studio on Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. He has been doodling his whole life and plans on continuing to think of ways to combine animation with music. Oh yeah, he also loves music.

Emerson HillArtist Bio:

2nd grader who is an avid Minecraft player and Lego Manic. The world of blocks and colors inspire his work.

Matt HillArtist Bio:

Innovative and creative father, husband, student and superintendent of BUSD.

Stephen HillenburgArtist Bio:

Stephen Hillenburg is an American marine biologist, cartoonist, animator, director, producer, writer, and voice actor, who is best known for creating the Nickelodeon animated television series SpongeBob SquarePants.

Michael Hirsh

www.mjhc ceramics.com

Artist Bio:

My life in ceramics started in 1972, when, at the age of 18, I enrolled in California College of Arts and Crafts (now California College of the Arts) in Oakland. There, I studied ceramic art under the tutelage of Viola Frey, Peter Voulkos and Art Nelson. Although I hadn't yet developed my style, I was able to hone my skills at one of the finest art schools on the West Coast. After earning a BFA in 1975, I continued my education at Otis Art Institute in Los Angeles. At Otis, I studied more about how to incorporate sculpture into my ceramics and received my MFA in 1976.

Following graduate school, I decided to get married and raise a family. So I shelved my ceramics for a bills-paying job in construction, specifically, custom tile work. Later, I worked at my father's manufacturing business and in sales before resuming my art career in 2001.

Over the past fourteen years, I've refined all facets of my ceramic art. Each piece is handmade and one of a kind, the result of meticulous throwing, sculpting, carving and firing at my studio in Burbank, California. I'm inspired by the classic forms of the Arts and Crafts, Art Deco and Art Nouveau periods. But rather than mere imitations, my work features original design motifs and original high-fire glaze combinations that have taken years to perfect.

I continue to learn about ceramics and have broadened my knowledge by collecting vintage and antique pottery. Currently, I teach adult and children's ceramics classes at the Creative Arts Center in Burbank while offering private lessons at my home studio.

I'm still married to my beautiful high school sweetheart, Karen, and we have two sons, Jason (a former Major League Baseball pitcher for the Houston Astros, Colorado Rockies and New York Yankees) and Matthew (a deputy with the Ventura County Sheriff's Office). We also have three grandchildren (Brady, Hudson and Luke), with a fourth on the way.

Andrew Hoang

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Shannon Hoang

Anna Hoard

Artist Bio:

Anna Hoard is 7. She loves to draw.

Sam Hoard

Artist Bio:

Sam Hoard is 11. He likes to draw and make robots.

Pam Hoefler

Artist Bio:

Peg Hoefler has over 30 years of experience as an architect and has worked closely with many artists throughout her career. Though she has participated in group art exhibits since the age of 9, as an architect, the pursuit of creating original artwork was put aside for many years in favor of creating buildings. It was not until her return to Honolulu in 2011 that Hoefler found herself drawn into the ceramic artists circle. She is presently serving on the Board of the Hawaii Potters' Guild. Eventually she made her way into the paper collage community and a whole world of fantastic colors and textures was revealed.

She has lived in Japan, Texas, Bangkok, Las Vegas, and Los Angeles and the inspiration of her artwork has been drawn from the many cultures and adventures she has experienced. Hoefler's artwork includes mixed media pieces combining ceramic, paper, paint, and glass as tribute to her varied life events. Her favorite artworks are the pieces that evoke a sense of lightheartedness or outright laughter. In her opinion, the world needs more laughter and people engaged in art with childlike wonder.

Gevorg Hovasafyan

Vazgen Hovasafyan

Lilli Hughes

Artist Bio:

Hello and welcome to this Bio. My name is Lillian Hughes and I'm a freshman at JBHS. I would say "I've been drawing since..." but I honestly can't remember. My additional hobbies are metal smithing, dragon statue collecting, practicing my parkour moves, storyboarding, comic-ing and other good stuff. As much as I like drawing, I like writing more. This piece actually came from a parody of Hansel and Gretel I wrote a few Christmases ago. Hansel and Gretel has always been my favorite Grimm story. I admire the companionship of the siblings, the brilliantly simple concept of an edible house, the fact that the girl ends up the savior (that's what I like best- female heroism). But writers will be writers, so of course I found some details (or lack thereof) that I thought I could revise. Thus, a parody was born.

This illustration isn't an actual scene from the book, but I feel I've captured their casual attitude up there on the chimney; you have to be nonchalant to get away with eating a house. Anyway, I hope you enjoy this drawing. Good-bye.

Rachel Huntley

Artist Bio:

Rachel Huntley is a 7th grade student in Burbank. She loves singing, dancing, ice skating and art.

Rebecca Huntley

Artist Bio:

Rebecca Huntley is a Burbank resident. She has worked in production management in the animation industry for 25 years. Her credits include films such as "Pocahontas", "Mulan", "How To Train Your Dragon", "How To Train Your Dragon 2" and "Home". She currently works for DreamWorks Animation as an Associate Producer.

Ennie Marie Ilasco

Lisa Ingalls

www.lisaingalls.com

Amber IngramArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Yukako InoueArtist Bio:

Yukako Inoue grew up in Tokyo, Japan, and moved to the US when she was 18 to (eventually) study art in college. During her 10-year career at Disney Interactive, she created a lot of artwork for videogames. After becoming a full-time mother, Yukako has done design work for videogame companies and also created illustrations for textiles and consumer products. She volunteered for the clay program and occasionally taught art classes at her daughter's elementary school.

She enjoys looking at the birds in her backyard and wait for White Capped Sparrows to come back in winter.

Narine Isajanyan

www.narineisajanyan.com

De Ivett

www.5dspectrum.com

Artist Bio:

De Ivett is a commercial designer/programmer by day and bass player/songwriter by night, a true 'multi-media' artist. She is founder of Burbank-based 5D Spectrum, a full service interactive design agency specializing in web-based workflow solutions using content management systems (CMS), eCommerce platforms and custom web development.

Allan JacobsenArtist Bio:

Allan Jacobsen has worked as an Animation Director since 1996. He has had the privilege and pleasure to Direct for Nickelodeon, Cartoon Network, Fox and Film Roman as well as Storyboard for Disney, and Dreamworks. Yes. It is absolutely as fun as it sounds. As a writer and illustrator, Allan has worked for Marvel Comics and DC Comics and currently works as a Writer for DreamEast Productions' "Valt The Wonder Deer". Allan has recently begun working as an Animation Instructor for John Burroughs High School in Burbank and Glendale Community College. As a human being, Allan has worked on a variety of projects including marriage to his wife Kristen, and the fathering of his two sons, Garrett and Gage. The hours are terrible, but the benefits are terrific!

Chelsea Jauregui

www.chelseajauregui.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Chelsea Jauregui is a recent graduate from Cal State Fullerton, and is currently working at Nickelodeon. She's a lover of anything cute and weird, and that's what inspires her work. Chelsea is looking forward to all of the learning and growing that's in store as she starts to establish herself as an artist. Thanks for checking out Chelsea's work!

Jim Henson's Creature Shop

www.creatureshop.com

Artist Bio:

Jim Henson's Creature Shop™ provides performed digital visual effects, animatronic creatures, animation and soft puppets to the international film, television and advertising industries. Based in Los Angeles and New York with satellite shop capabilities internationally, the Shop is known for designing and building some of the world's best-known characters including the Sesame Street puppets, the classic Muppets, the dinosaurs from Dinosaurs, the aliens from Farscape and the fantastical creatures from The Dark Crystal and Labyrinth. Other feature credits include Where the Wild Things Are, Forgetting Sarah Marshall, Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy, and Five Children and It. The shop is also known for its live performance work with artists like Cee Lo Green, Kanye West, Lady Gaga and Deadmau5.

Brenden Jimenez

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Bart Johnson

Artist Bio:

Bart Johnson is an actor and director, known for High School Musical (2006), High School Musical 2 (2007) and High School Musical 3: Senior Year (2008). He spent much of his early childhood on television sets with his mother Charlene Johnson, who was a hairstylist for shows including Mork & Mindy (1978), The Brady Bunch (1969) and Charlie's Angels (1976). Bart knew he wanted to be an actor after performing in his high school production of "West Side Story." He has been married to Robyn Lively since September 25, 1999. They have three children.

Bert Johnson

Artist Bio:

Bert Johnson is a partner in Graphics Two, a general Graphic Design firm started in 1972. He and the firm have worked in all areas of Graphic Design, including labeling, packaging, book and magazine design, corporate identities, marketing support, signage and trade show booth design. He has taught courses in Computer Graphic Design, Computer Illustration, Typography, Print Production and Screen Printing. He holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Industrial Design from the University of Illinois. He is a member of various professional organizations and has been a presenter at seminars and meetings dealing with design and production issues. Recently he has started to pursue a study of limited edition printing in the screen printing and letterpress arena and has started to publish multicolored limited edition fine arts prints. Some of the screen printing work has required specialized unique techniques for pieces done for other artists for their art installations within Los Angeles County

Jane JonesArtist Bio:

While in college, Jane Jones learned the theory - Simplicity in form and function is genius. She tries to follow this advice with whatever she's creating.

Armineh Jordan

Emilia JordanArtist Bio:

Emilia Jordan was born on February 25, 2003. She lives in Burbank with her parents, grandmother, and her dog, Gianni. Emilia is attending John Muir middle school and is in 7th grade. She loves music and arts. She plays piano, sings, and is an active member of her school's Voice Music Association "Girls Next Door" show choir. She also loves drawing, painting, designing, decorating and anything to do with visual arts.

Helena JulinArtist Bio:

Helena Julin is intrigued by Mixed Media - the Fusion of painting and sculpture. To build up a picture to a more 3-dimensional object makes it more inviting to the viewer. She enjoys experimenting with new materials: acrylic gels, salts, sand, textiles, seaweed and shells. To combine unusual media into an interesting picture is an ongoing process, both challenging and exciting. Even though Helena's art is often abstract, the love of nature and concern of the environment is often evident in her work. Los Angeles, with its quilt of different environments, inspires much of her work. Helena enjoys going up into the local mountains with her watercolors to paint and strolling on the beach looking at what the waves bring ashore.

Stephen John Kalinich

www.stephenjohnkalinich.co.uk

Artist Bio:

Stephen John Kalinich is an American poet mostly known for his collaborations with the American band the Beach Boys. He co-wrote several songs released by the group, including "All I Want To Do," "Be Still," "Little Bird" and "A Time To Live In Dreams." Stephen John was the lyricist and co-publisher for Brian Wilson's duet with Paul McCartney, "A Friend Like You." He is also known for his 1969 album A World of Peace Must Come, which was a collaboration between him and Beach Boy bandleader Brian Wilson. The album remained unreleased until 2008.

Michael KaliszArtist Bio:

My name is Michael Kalisz, I'm 17 years old, and I'm a senior at John Burroughs High School. I've been interested in art for as long as I can remember. I can safely say that art is my one true passion.

Aaron KalpakianArtist Bio:

My name is Aaron Kalpakian. I am sixteen years young and I attend John Burroughs High School. This is my junior year there, and I am involved in the widely popular show choir. I love to sing, dance, play saxophone, and occasionally, doodle. I sing and dance all day during choir and I practice saxophone, so during classes or at home, I decide to draw what comes to mind. I do not have a preference for what I draw, it could range from a fantasy creature, to a realistic, dramatic scene. Altogether, I love to express how I see the world through my music and drawings.

Keith Kaminski

www.keith-kaminski.com

Betty Sue KarpArtist Bio:

Betty Sue Karp is a member of San Fernando Valley Art Club, Fine Arts Federation of Burbank, and the Burbank Art Association where she has won top awards for her unique abstract paintings. She became interested in art at a very early age being a daughter of a well-known professional clothing designer. She was always captivated by the brilliant colors and myriad of designs in the fabric stores that she and her mother frequented several times a week. Often, she would take her sketch book and help design clothing with her mother. Being part of the "Hippie Generation" allowed Betty Sue to continue expressing her creativity all the more through sculpture, collage and abstract painting.

Rick KarpArtist Bio:

Rick Karp was born in Brooklyn, NY. He is a long time member of the Burbank Art Association and Fine Arts Federation of Burbank and has won top awards for his work. Rick became interested in photography in the mid 70's while living in New York. After relocating to Los Angeles in 1977 he proceeded to set up his own color lab where he developed his photographs at his home. In Rick's early years while living in NY he built custom motorcycles and won several trophies at various custom shows. He is now retired from Los Angeles City College where he worked as an Electrician for over 3 decades. Rick's hobbies include travel, woodworking, and deep sea fishing. He and his wife have travelled extensively in the past 35 years and he never leaves home without his camera.

Ara M. Kevakian

www.themoviemajojo.com

Taden KhajaturiansArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Reem KhalilArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Adonna Khare

www.adonnak.com

Artist Bio:

Adonna Khare is an America Artist mainly focused on carbon pencil on paper drawings. She received her Masters of Fine Art from California State University Long Beach. Her work has been collected by prestigious public and private collections throughout the world. In 2012 she won the world's largest art competition ArtPrize, competing against over 1500 artists from all around the world. She has been featured in the Los Angeles Time, NPR, The Huffington Post, Daily Mail, Juxtapoz Magazine, Mashable, My Modern Metropolis, Saatchi Gallery as well as thousands of blogs, Facebook, Pinterest and Instagram pages. She has had group and solo shows throughout the country. Long Beach Art Museum, City of Carlsbad Art Gallery, Nassau County Art Museum, Yellowstone Art Museum, Grand Rapids Art Museum and Crystal Bridges.

Luke Kim

Ellie KleinArtist Bio:

Ellie Klein was born and raised in Boston, where she studied art before moving to L.A. in 1973. She has lived in Burbank since 1980, and she raised two children here. After many, many years--with guidance and encouragement from local artist, Randall Williams--her love of drawing was reawakened. More recently, she enjoys the tutelage of another local artist, Johnathan Gallagher. She is a member of the Burbank Art Association. She enjoys experimenting with various mediums, but she still prefers drawing.

Jennifer Klein

www.mixedupalot.wordpress.com/portfolio

Artist Bio:

Jennifer Klein originally trained as an animator and story artist, but fell in love with picture books. After asking God what path He was leading her down, her first book, Sir Bumble and the curious land of Mixedupalot sprang to mind and a new adventure began. She is currently working on her second book in the Mixedupalot series, Princess Pristina and doing freelance illustration. When she isn't drawing, you can find Jennifer washing dishes, folding laundry or hunting dragons with her husband and two young children at their home in Burbank, CA. Sir Bumble is available in paperback through Barnes & Noble www.bn.com, and in hardback through Lulu Press www.Lulu.com

Jennifer Klein

Jordan Koch

www.jordankoch.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Jordan Koch is currently a storyboard artist on The Loud House at Nickelodeon Animation Studio. Originally from Coopersburg, Pennsylvania, he later graduated from Edinboro University of Pennsylvania in 2012, with a degree in traditional hand-drawn animation. His work has also been published in Animation Magazine.

Courtney KoenigArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Mineli KordijanArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Linda Kosoff

www.lindakosoff.com

Artist Bio:

Linda Kosoff grew up in Newton, Massachusetts and received a BFA from the Rhode Island School of Design in 1982. Two years later, she moved to Los Angeles where she immediately had the opportunity to assist a friend doing signage for the '84 Summer Olympics in L.A. She then began to work for a small computer graphics startup where she designed digital type fonts for computers and printers, including the first Apple Mac. Linda came back to painting when she was commissioned by Bloomingdale's to paint large murals for their "California Lifestyles Furniture Show." Her pool-themed murals were displayed in NYC, Boston, Boca Raton, Washington D.C. and Connecticut stores. From 1996-2000, she was accepted into the Los Angeles Museum of Art, Art Rental & Sales Gallery. She returned to figurative painting; something she had explored while at school. Always interested in the distance between people and a keen observer of the separateness that can exist in relationships, she began painting narratives where the figures seem to be alone in their own worlds or unaware of each other's presence. Sometimes, she will use scale or a diptych/triptych to make the separation more literal. The images she is drawn to are awkward, self-conscious, invisible, lonely, and stoic moments from childhood, adolescence and adulthood. Linda has exhibited recently at Long Beach Arts, Hale Arts, Santa Monica, BG Gallery, Santa Monica and Gallery 825, Los Angeles Artist Association. She lives in Los Angeles with her husband, daughter and son.

Dan Krall

www.dandrall.com

Danielle Krattiger

www.instagram.com/daniellekrattiger

Artist Bio:

Danielle Krattiger is an aspiring artist based in the Los Angeles area. She graduated from John Burroughs High School in Burbank, CA., and is now furthering her education at Pasadena City College, with a Nursing major. She is keeping busy being a full-time student and working a part-time job at a local roofing incorporation. She loves to travel, learn, create, grow, and hang out with loved ones. She has always loved art and anything that causes one to express themselves. Her favorite style of art is abstract art, street art, and digital art. She has recently got into producing t-shirts and stickers with her designs, and hopes to one day create a blooming business that will let her share her art with everyone around the world.

Wade LageoseArtist Bio:

Wade Lageose is a graphic designer-artist who specializes in the entertainment field—designing logos, film posters, animated film and television titles, book covers, packaging, and even skateboards. His clients have included Lucasfilm, Walt Disney, A&E, Discovery Channel, Animal Planet, Capital Records, Silman-James Press, and World Industries. Wade is also the co-author of the upcoming Lucasfilm book Star Wars Art: Ralph McQuarrie coming out in 2016 from Abrams Books. He lives in Los Angeles.

Dorothy LagrueArtist Bio:

Dorothy Lagrue recently renewed her passion for watercolor over the past 3 months. It has always been a desire of hers to continue to expand her gift of creativity into this medium. Since Dorothy renewed her commitment to expressions with her brush, she's been rejuvenated creatively in her works. Dorothy is intrigued by what she's capable of creating and looks forward to a lifelong hobby wherever that may lead her.

Lois Langford

www.loislangford-art.com

Artist Bio:

Lois Langford, is a native of Los Angeles, CA. Her art talent was first noticed in Kindergarten. Not taken seriously by parents, because everybody knows art cannot be a career, and besides, “you’ll go crazy and cut off your ear”, she was encouraged to be a secretary, nurse, or teacher.

The untamed artist spirit couldn’t be fenced in, besides, she couldn’t get the hang of typing. So, she showed them all as good luck, fortune & blessings would have it, to be employed as an artist for nearly 40 years. Lois created art at a Southern California amusement park, taught art in the LAUSD when after 5 years, she resigned to start her own mural business. WOW! What a run for the next 3 decades. She was the artist for 5 Bellini Children stores in Southern California, customizing furniture with original art & designs. Presently, Lois is painting commissioned portraits. She’s featured in galleries and has placed in Art Shows with her “big sky” landscapes in acrylics and watercolors and abstracts in oil. And once in a while, if you ask nice, she’ll come out of the studio or en plein air to paint a mural for you.

Veronica Langley

Artist Bio:

My name is Veronica Langley, and I submitted the piece entitled "Carrick a Rede" for the Burbank Secret Art show. I have been drawing and painting since I was two years old, and I plan to create a website to showcase my art at some point in the not-too-distant future. However, I have not yet created the site; so, to keep tabs on when it goes up, you can follow me on Twitter @VeryVillainess . Hope to see you there!

Julia Lapeze

www.julialapezedesigns.etsy.com

Catherine Lemoine

www.catherinesartandsoul.com

www.catherinesdecor.com

Artist Bio:

Catherine Lemoine began her journey in painting when she accepted Jesus Christ as her Savior in 2005. He gave her the gift of love, grace and painting at the same time. As she walks in His path she tries to capture His most fabulous moments of nature, beauty and light and put it on a canvas so that she can share that vision with others and they too can see the majesty Catherine witnesses at a singular moment in time. Locally, she is active in Arts Obispo, Open Studios Art Tour, San Luis Obispo, and El Camino Art Association. Catherine participates at Alan Hancock College demonstrating “Plein Air” painting, and works with Nipomo Recreation as an Art Instructor. Catherine has found the people who share the same passions about art are today her good friends. That fellowship has provided the encouragement and desire to continue to create more art, to serve more and best of all to laugh more. Laugh at herself and with others as they journey through the visual arts, paint brush in hand.

Scott Lewis

www.scottlewisphotographer.com

Artist Bio:

Born and raised in Burbank, Scott Lewis started photographing at a very young age always loved parts of the art scene discovered a love for watercolors a few years back. Stemming from life's turmoil he explored ways to make the work more permanent. This discovery led him to begin working with repurposed wood and explore the water color medium in new ways.

Carrie Liao

www.sprezzaturan.tumblr.com

Van Ling

www.vanlingpro.com

Artist Bio:

Van Ling is a freelance visual effects supervisor, graphic designer, producer, writer, editor, consultant, and digital artist whose film and television credits include "The Abyss", "Terminator 2", "Twister", "Starship Troopers", "Doctor Dolittle", "The Walking Dead" and "Titanic"; in addition, he has designed and produced several of the THX trailers seen in theatres around the world as well as stereoscopic 3D trailers for both THX and DTS. Working from his studio in Palos Verdes, Ling also designs and produces animated graphics and effects for theme park attractions such as Disney's "Star Tours", EPCOT's "Test Track" and Disney Cruiseline's Skyline Lounge, which are seen by thousands every day at the Disney venues. Ling has also produced many seminal DVDs and Blu-ray discs, creating in-depth special features (on titles ranging from "Field of Dreams" to "Titanic") and often pioneering innovative menu systems, including those for "The Abyss Special Edition", "Independence Day", the "Hunger Games" films, various incarnations of "Terminator 2" and all of the "Star Wars" films on DVD. His work on has garnered multiple awards and nominations from various home theatre and industry trade organizations and is widely respected by both home entertainment professionals and consumers.

Blake LivelyArtist Bio:

Blake Lively is a Burbank High School graduate, but is best known as an actress in the TV series, "Gossip Girl," and feature films, "Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants," "The Town," "The Age of Adaline," and many more. She is married to actor Ryan Reynolds and they have one child together.

Robyn LivelyArtist Bio:

Robyn Elaine Lively is an American actress. Lively is best known for her role in the film Teen Witch, as well as for her roles in the TV shows Doogie Howser, M.D., Twin Peaks and Saving Grace.

Anneliese London

www.annelieselondon.com

Artist Bio:

Anneliese is an artist, art enthusiast, photographer, writer, university professor, and poet. She uses a variety of media to express her talents. Her Native American Cherokee Nation ancestry influences the symbolism and spirit of her work. Additionally, her work is infused with Reiki energy. Her work has been shown at the Geo Gallery in Glendale, The Creative Art Center in Burbank and The Secret Art Show, a fundraiser for Burbank Arts for All Foundation. Ms. London is a 17 year veteran of the Pasadena Chalk Festival, the world's largest chalk art festival. She also teaches arts and crafts in various venues.

Eloisa Lopez

www.elolopez.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Eloisa Lopez is a color stylist working in Nickelodeon Animation for the last 6 years. Born and raised in Mexico, she sure does miss her hometown Al pastor Tacos but has grown fond of America's Chicken Wings. You will most likely find her trying the new ethnic restaurant in town, looking up vintage fashion, or finally, checking up Orbitz for the next travel deal.

Victoria Lova

www.artpal.com/vilova

Artist Bio:

Born and raised in Russia, Victoria Lova has lived and worked in the US for over 20 years now. Victoria studied visual and performing arts at Moscow University, Russia and holds an MA of Arts in Education. A former ballet dancer, musician, artist, and photographer, she does not imagine her life outside the arts.

Will Loya

www.wloya.com

Artist Bio:

On the artist's path from an early age, Will Loya was drawn to the visual and musical arts. Thanks to a wide array of talented mentors, he was encouraged to follow his interests in art. His passion continued in college, where he began studying traditional Afro-Cuban drumming while working on his art degree. By the late 1970's Will was deeply immersed in the local art scene and was emerging as a respected Latin percussionist and vocalist. After receiving a BFA in Drawing and Painting, he joined forces with his brother Marcos, a highly-gifted guitarist, to form the band "Califas". Throughout the 1980's and 90's, Will continued his professional career in music while maintaining a visual arts studio. During this time, he had the opportunity to accompany internationally acclaimed artists including Tito Puente, Jose Feliciano, Linda Ronstadt, and the band WAR. As a break from the rigors of life as a musician/visual artist, Will began working with youth as a teaching artist. His teaching portfolio includes his work as Lead Teacher in the innovative "Rock the Classroom" literacy/music program as well as classes taught at The Otis College of Art and Design and the LAUSD sponsored Arts 4 City Youth. Will is currently engaged in growing his own enrichment program "The Illustrated Song". The program has come to serve over 3,000 elementary students in the San Gabriel and Burbank school districts.

Emily LozanoArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Dani Luv

www.daniluv.com

Artist Bio:

Dani Luv is a self-taught professional artist residing in Burbank, CA. He is the youngest of 8 children born to a Mexican/American family from southwest Kansas. His favorite mediums are acrylic, charcoals, pastels & paint markers. His current work embodies pet portraits, scene scapes, caricatures & hosting private "Paint Parties". For more info please visit www.daniluv.com

Skylar MacDonaldArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Art Student

Matt Mahurin

www.mattmahurin.com

Artist Bio:

Matt Mahurin has worked for over twenty years as an illustrator, photographer, and filmmaker. He's done political illustrations for Time, Newsweek, Mother Jones, Rolling Stone, New York Times. Mahurin has photographs in the permanent collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City. He has directed music videos for Peter Gabriel, U2, REM, Tracy Chapman, Sting, Bonnie Raitt, Ice-T, Metallica, David Byrne, and Joni Mitchell. Matt's documentary "I Like Killing Flies" chosen 2004 Sundance Film Festival. He is the recipient of gold and silver medals from The Society of Illustrators. His work has appeared on 40 TIME Magazine covers. Matt continues to lecture on the craft of image making at schools and professional organizations. He currently lives in California.

Danielle MakilingArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Silvia ManciniLea Manouchehri*Artist Bio:

Lea is 11 and goes to Muir Middle school in Burbank. She's a talented artists who enjoys the works of Tim Burton, watching movies and dreaming about becoming a movie director. She loves to paint, do crafts and practice stand up comedy.

Sandra Manouchehri

www.sleepwalkerdesign.com

Artist Bio:

Sandra lives in Burbank with her husband and 2 daughters. She owns a local design company called Sleepwalker Design Inc, which specializes in designing juvenile and pet products, and entertainment key art. In her spare time she likes to paint mixed media art and enjoys doing arts and crafts with her kids. You can see her work on www.sleepwalkerdesign.com.

Joe Mantegna

Artist Bio:

Joe Mantegna is an award-winning actor who has made over 200 film and TV appearances. He is also a producer, writer, and director, and is probably best known for his role as Joey Zasa in the Francis Ford Coppola epic The Godfather: Part III (1990), in which he stars alongside Al Pacino and Andy Garcia. Joe won a Tony Award as Best Actor for playing Richard Roma in David Mamet's "Glengarry Glen Ross." He is one of only three actors to play both themselves and a fictional character on "The Simpsons," as "Fat Tony."

Mia Mantegna

Artist Bio:

Mia Mantegna, 28, debuted her first collection of oil pastels in September of 2014 at Pergolina Gift & Gallery of Toluca Lake raising over $5,000 for Easter Seals Autism. There, she was presented with a Certificate of Congratulations from the City of Los Angeles recognizing her extraordinary accomplishments. Mia, a young woman with autism, studied at MUD Makeup Designory and with those skills became the resident makeup artist for Joey Travolta's Inclusion Film company from 2010-2014. Ever growing as an artist, Mia continues creating under the tutelage of local artist Johnathon Gallagher and MUD makeup artist Gina Sandler.

Gidget Elena Marasek

Artist Bio:

Gidget Marasek is a junior who goes to John Burroughs high school. She is self taught, and sophomore year just started to take art classes. Gidget is in the advanced mixed choir, Powerhouse, and in the previous year she won best performer in Soundsensations, the advanced women's choir. Her hobbies include, singing, dancing, performing, drawing, or painting. This is her second year participating in the Secret Art Show.

Tracy Marcelli

Mark Marek

www.markmarek.org

Artist Bio:

Mark has enjoyed moderately successful careers as a dishwasher, a chef, an illustrator and an animator. He's currently an animation producer and director at Warner Bros where he recently finished an animated series with Conan O'Brien. Still married to his first wife, he has at least two known biological children.

Ed Marsh

Artist Bio:

Ed W. Marsh is a filmmaker living and working in Los Angeles who in a few years MAY have directed something you watched and enjoyed. Or maybe not. This town can be sort of iffy that way. But if you saw the movie TITANIC then at least you saw him because he's the video camera man at the beginning of the movie. Fame is fleeting. Art is forever.

Isaac Marzioli

www.happy-pantry.com

Artist Bio:

Isaac Marzioli has worked in the animation industry for the last 13 years. He has worked at Nickelodeon on Fairly Odd Parents, Danny Phantom and Tuff Puppy, and freelanced for Sanjay and Craig, Dora the Explorer, Shimmer and Shine, Pig Goat Banana Cricket, and many others. Isaac has also designed props for the new Powerpuff Girls at Cartoon Network. Beyond that, Isaac is the co-creator of Happy Pantry, an adorable kitchen themed brand aimed at melting eyeballs with cuteness overload.

Crystal MateoArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

John MazurArtist Bio:

The artist, a young 60 year old John Mazur, is a proud member of the Board of Director's of the Burbank Arts For All Foundation, a proud member of the Leadership Burbank Board of Director's and a proud member of Leadership Burbank's Class of 2013 and it's valuable '31 Violins' project to benefit Burbank's three elementary schools, all now with a music program: Providencia, Roosevelt and Washington Schools.

Shannon McNeill

www.littledrawings.com

Artist Bio:

Shannon McNeill was raised by Canadians in suburban Southern California. She is an illustrator, surface designer, printmaker, and volunteer teacher, passionately committed to improving visual literacy for children in her community of San Diego. Her work is evidence of a love affair with process, experimentation, and improvisation. Clients include Chronicle Books, Dutton Books, Marcel Wanders Studio, Boekie Boekie, Nickelodeon, and the Los Angeles Times. She graduated from Art Center College of Design. She enjoys taco shops, reading aloud, weird nature, and sunshine.

Mackenna MeltzerArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Eddie Mendozawww.eddie-mendoza.netArtist Bio:

Eddie Mendoza is a concept artist working in the film and video game industries. His clients include Epic Games, Warner Bros., and Electronic Arts. Currently, he works as a concept artist at Scribble Pad Studios in Glendale. He enjoys karaoke and spending time with his dog, an Australian shepherd named Jessie.

Philleen MeskinArtist Bio:

Philleen Meskin is an artist and Realtor. Philleen has many passions in life and two of them are ART and Real Estate. Philleen hopes you enjoy the art contributions and also keeps them in mind when you need a great, compassionate, & caring Realtor for yourself or friends and family.

Danielle MiceliArtist Bio:

I am a student at CSULB receiving my BA in studio art with an emphasis in painting and drawing. I am a mixed media artist specializing in repurposed art. These pieces submitted are from my color theory studies.

Dawna Miceliwww.jtstainedglass.comArtist Bio:

Dawna Tucker Miceli is a stained glass artist. She owns and operates James Thomas Stained & Leaded Glass in Studio City with her husband James Miceli since 1973. Dawna has taken a break from her usual submissions this year to add some "Just for fun artwork" Titled "Rock Fish 3 & 4". Please remove fish from foam board once purchased and display on a tray of sand or drop into your favorite fountain.

Michael Milauskaswww.jet-set-art.comArtist Bio:

Michael Milauskas is a mostly self-taught artist and Burbank resident. He got his start in grade school taking art classed at the Palm Springs Art Museum. He works mostly with oils but also mixed media and found objects. His current obsession is old TV shows and characters. His favorite painters are the 17th century Dutch artists, but Andy Warhol is his favorite single artist.

Gevorg MinasyanArtist Bio:

My namd is Gevorg Minasyan and I am an artist, I have a passion to draw I love all of my work that I have done in the past, I was in third grade when I participated in a art competition and won that is when I realized I had a gift when I had.

This painting resembles what I love, and also my passion, space and the galaxies. That's why I painted this rocket blasting through space and Saturn. And the more I paint the more ideas flow into my mind and I start to imagine what the final product will become. My passion for art and painting will never come to an end I hope you feel the same way as I do. This painting will fill your heart with joy and wonders like I did with mine. Never stop believing and dreaming.

Brianna Moore

Artist Bio:

Brianna Moore was born in Burbank, CA in 1998. She currently attends John Burroughs High School and will graduate with honors in May of 2016. She plans on going to either UC Berkeley or UC Irvine and receiving her Master's Degree in Business Marketing. For the past three summers, she volunteered at Sunny Days Camp as a Junior Arts and Crafts Coordinator. Brianna hopes to bring her knowledge of the principles of design into her future career. Art and design have always been a passion for her and she wishes to continue on this creative path for the rest of her life.

Jessica Moore

www.stygy.tumblr.com

www.instagram.com/stygianrecluse

Artist Bio:

Jessica Moore grew up in Ventura California, and currently lives in San Clemente to attend LCAD to major in Illustration with Entertainment Emphasis. She's a personal fan of graphic styles and gouache and ink are her favorite mediums. However Jessica can work in a myriad of mediums from traditional oil paints to digital illustration. Her hobbies on the side include costume making and crafting.

Gwyneth Moore

www.facebook.com/misakiyanderecosplay

Artist Bio:

My name is Gwyneth Moore. The art I submitted is named, "Immortal Cosmos." I am 15 years old and in 10th grade. I am an Animation 2 student at Burbank High School. I am female and prefer she/her pronouns. My favorite things to do are animating and cosplaying. I hope to work at a cartoon company in the future, maybe making storyboards or character designs. I hope everyone appreciates my art and gets inspired by it. Thank you so much.

Bill Morrison

Artist Bio:

Bill Morrison is an American comic book artist and writer, and co-founder of Bongo Comics (along with Matt Groening and Steve and Cindy Vance). He was the creative director of Bongo Comics from to 1993 to 2012.

Mattie Motz

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Bunneah Munkeah

www.bunneahmunkeah.com

Jacqueline Myers-Cho

www.myerscho.weebly.com

Artist Bio:

Jacqueline Myers-Cho, a contemporary artist, creates big and bold figurative works that are walking the line between the conventional notions of painting and illustration. These stylized paintings are painted in a classical way, rendering them fresh and new. "I approach the canvas not so much with a completed painting in my mind as with a feeling," she says. "As the work progresses, I keep asking what needs to be done for it to be better. This process of painting better consumes me into something like a walking meditation, constantly stepping back from and forward to the canvas in order to see better," she adds. From this process emerge glowing figures as if they were stepping forward from the background; some of the edges are soft, others hard; the figures carry the attitudes of spunkiness, aloofness, and regalness. Myers-Cho has been influenced by a number of masters: Henri Matisse for his female figures and his late collage works, Georgia O'Keeffe for her boldness and subtle tones, Rembrandt for his glazed backgrounds and how the figures emerge from them, but she says, "I have also been influenced by two "lowbrow" artists: Mark Ryder for his stylized girls and Joe Sorren for his surreal settings and figures." She has developed a unique style, and her work often contains exaggerated figures with large eyes, a large head, and a long neck. She has one book called "STRANDS: Creating Unexpected Fabrics and Fashionable Projects" published by North Light Books, and has self-published two coloring books: Jacqueline's Coloring Book Volume 1 and Volume 2 Monsters. She is in the process of publishing another coloring book called "Dogs and Cats." Her works have been collected by fine art collectors from many countries and regions: the U.S., Japan, South Korea, Sweden, Australia, New Zealand, Switzerland, and Italy. She now lives in Los Angeles with her husband.

Rafi Nalbantian

Remi Nalbantian

Ronin Nalbantian

Lesley NavaArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Art Student

Evelyna NazariArtist Bio:

Hello, my name is Evelyna Nazari and I'm currently a first year at Pasadena City College. I enjoy drawing as my pastime and like to spend my time in ways where I can learn of new and unique creative outlets. I have been drawing for at least seven years now and hope to take my experiences along with me to the future of my work. I prefer to do art traditionally but do enjoy to work digitally as well, especially for coloring.

Amy Nelson

www.nelsonart.net

Artist Bio:

Amy Nelson is a fine artist trained in painting at Drake University and Columbia College Chicago. She has shown her abstract oil paintings in Chicago, Denver, New York and Los Angeles. She is the founder of NelsonArt, a fine-art card company that donates its profits to The Hirshberg Foundation for Pancreatic Cancer Research at UCLA. Amy lives in Burbank, CA with her husband, daughter and yellow lab.

Natalie NguyenArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Erika NisoionArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Noa NowlingArtist Bio:

When looking at a face, all we see is structure. The way the eyes are shaped and formed. How big or small the nose and lips are. But, what we don't see are the hidden words behind each feature. Noa Nowling was born Gothenburg, Sweden in 1997. She now is a resident in Burbank, California and goes to John Burroughs High School. In her image, she attempts to capture a beautiful face that has meaning behind it. Our faces distinguish us from other people. They make us who we are and everyone should be very proud of that. A picture is worth a thousand words. A face is worth a million.

Varinya Nunez

www.instagram.com/visual_varinya

Artist Bio:

Varinya Nunez grew up in Burbank, California and is an alumnus of John Burroughs High School. She has worked in the entertainment industry for many years. She currently resides in the San Gabriel Valley and is a freelance artist/designer. To see her current and past work, follow her on Instagram @visual_varinya.

Conan O'Brienwww.teamcoco.comArtist Bio:

Conan O'Brien grew up in a large, Irish Catholic family in Massachusetts. At an early age, he began a love of comedy and goofing off, which carried on when he entered the prestigious Harvard University. He pulled many pranks in his time there, as well as became the president of the Harvard humor magazine, the Harvard Lampoon. After leaving Harvard, Conan found his way to a television writing job in LA. After jumping around on many unsuccessful shows, Conan moved out to New York, where he won an Emmy for his writing on "Saturday Night Live" (1975). Later, he moved on to work for "The Simpsons" (1989), when SNL Executive Producer Lorne Michaels offered him the job of producer for the vacant 12:30 slot on NBC. Conan, after searching for a new host for the time slot, decided to audition for the job himself, and eventually wound up as the host of "Late Night with Conan O'Brien".

Ernesto Ochoawww.ernieoch.wix.com/artzArtist Bio:

Ernie Ochoa is currently working on the iconic Fairly Oddparents production as a prop designer. His inspiration transpired from comic book illustrations which led him to drawing continuously from the next 20 plus years. The Hulk is Ernie's cartoon alter ego, but instead of turning into a raging green giant with torn pants – he turns into a drawing beast with flannel shirts. In his quest for artistic freedom, he found a love for goofy animation during the Nickelodeon Internship Program. Cartoon animation has granted Ernie the privilege of using his creativity to open new doors, bringing back memories of his childhood fascination with super heroes. The Hulk will always hold a special place on his wall and in his imagination.

Oscar OchoaArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Mariam OgannesSamuel Ogannes*Maria Oglesbywww.mariaoglesbyart.comArtist Bio:

Maria Oglesby is an illustrator/designer and alumni of the Art Center College of Design. She works on both freelance illustration and children's books. More of her work may be viewed at mariaoglesbyart.com and stationery featuring her work may be purchased at etsy.com/shop/mariaoglesbyart

Shelly O'Neill

www.shellyoneilandthebigway.com

Artist Bio:

Shelly O'Neill has a small part in the 1980's cult classic, Fast Times at Ridgemont High. In the 90's she sang back-up on the Tonight Show for Smash Mouth. She is a writer, musician, vocalist, actress, and songwriter. She performs in the Los Angeles area with her band, Shelly O'Neill and the Big Way. She is currently writing a romance novel. Shelly is involved with Thoroughbred racehorse rescue and has two Thoroughbreds of her own, both grandbabies of Secretariat. Shelly is not a professional photographer; the photos entered in the Secret Art Show were captured spontaneously when she and her daughter visited a farm sanctuary for racehorses saved from slaughter.

Gizelle Orbino

www.jillsanvich.tumblr.com

Mayeli OrozcoArtist Bio:

Mayeli Orozco was born in Glendale, California in 1997 to Terry and Richard Orozco. Mayeli is the oldest daughter out of her 5 siblings. She is a senior attending John Burroughs High School in Burbank, California; where she also currently resides with her mother and loving step father, Armando Guerrero and 3 sisters. Her earliest introduction to art culture was her mother's interest in the Mexican artist, Frida Kahlo. Surrounded by a number of her works and her story, Mayeli still draws inspiration from Frida's paintings today.

Jaymee OrtizArtist Bio:

Hello my name is Jaymee Ortiz. I am a 15 year old sophomore at John Burroughs High School. As a student, creating art whether it's visual or physical has an important sense of value in my perspective. I will be taking advantage of this great opportunity by composing my own sketch that describes me. Thank you very much and have a great day.

Fred Osmond

Vanessa OsorioArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Beth Jeffery PaceArtist Bio:

Beth Jeffery-Pace is a relatively new Burbank resident. She has done pencil sketching, pottery throwing, painting, graphic design, website design and cabinetry. Beth is excited to help out the students in her new community.

348 E. Olive Avenue, Suite D | Burbank, CA 91502 | P: 818.736.5269 | F: 818.276.8474 | www.burbankartsforall.org

Joy Pacifici

Cece PaigeArtist Bio:

Cece Paige was born in Tacoma, WA in 1999. From a very young age Cece has been artistic, her perspective on the world permits her to constant creativity. She is an artist of many arts, and through that she is able to touch people and tell a story. Cece believes that art should be interpreted in a multitude of ways; it should evoke feeling to the onlooker or listener. Miss Paige is entering The Secret Art Show for the second year now, her piece is different and adds to her scale of work. The art work is done in graphite and then contrasted with paint for an active effect. Miss Paige is currently working in LA and is constantly on the move creating new art.

Lonnda PaigeArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Art Student

Elizabeth Pak

Brad PascualArtist Bio:

After spending 15 years as a graphic designer in advertising in the Midwest, Brad Pascual desperately wanted to use his creativity in more exciting ways. In 2010 he moved his family of five to Burbank so he could attend a visual effects school in Hollywood where he was able to apply 3D programs to his art. Brad has been working for Disney Imagineering as a Visual Effects Artist for the last two years. He loves using his talents to their full potential.

Caleigh PasterArtist Bio:

Caleigh Paster currently attends John Burroughs High School as a junior. She plays on the varsity volleyball team. When she has the time, she loves to draw and play guitar.

Wes PasterArtist Bio:

Wes Paster is a TV editor by day and a dad in the morning and evening. That leaves not much time for anything else, but he's been drawing most of his life.

Sherry Patterson

www.sherrypattersonart.com

Artist Bio:

Sherry Patterson has always colored outside the lines. And, in time, Sherry has come to appreciate, and use, all the crayons in the box.

Stephanie Pecina

www.pecinapaints.blogspot.com

Artist Bio:

Stephanie Pecina has always been interested in art and specifically color from a young age. Her passion for art stemmed from her childhood visits to museums with her grandmother. It was then she knew that art would forever be a part of her life. She began creating anything and everything. From tracing her favorite cartoon characters, to chalking up the driveway, Stephanie always found a way to express her love of art. She is currently a Production Coordinator at Nickelodeon Animation Studio and loves to paint in her free time. You may view a collection of her paintings on Instagram (@PecinaPaints). To her, color is happiness, and as she continues to create, she hopes to spread happiness to others through her works of art.

Gabriel PellotArtist Bio:

My name is Gabriel Pellot and I am an 11th grader at John Burroughs high school. I have grown up in Burbank all my life and have no art experience. I am 16 years old.

Caitlyn PentlandArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Ciana PerezArtist Bio:

Hi! Thank you so much for taking an interest in my art, and for donating to the arts for all foundation. My name is Ciana Perez (Sha-na) and I'm currently a senior in high school! I love art and painting because it is just a way for me to escape. I hope my art brings you joy as it has brought me by making it! Thanks again! :)

Jessica PerezArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Oscar PerezArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Douglas PetersArtist Bio:

My Name is Douglas Peters. I have been a Studio Set Painter for 30 years. This type of art is very different for me. I enjoy painting and learning new techniques. I find this type of painting creative and relaxing.

Marie C. PetersArtist Bio:

My name is Marie C. Peters. I sign my paintings "Concetta". I like to paint with oils, but I am also exploring other mediums.

Irena PetrosyanArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Mariam PetrosyanSergey Petrosyan*James Pham*Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Patricia Pham

www.potti3.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Ahoy! Patricia Pham was born and raised in good ol' Orange County and is currently a Design Clean-Up Artist on The Fairly Oddparents at Nickelodeon. She has a love of dogs and likes to experiment with dancing and fashion on her own three pups. Visit potti3.tumblr.com for more of her artwork!

Malcon Pierce

Artist Bio:

My name is Malcon Pierce, I'm an animation Supervisor for Walt Disney Animation Studios.

The title of the piece is "Plus Est En Vous" and it means, "There's MORE in YOU". Never doubt what you're capable of.

Daniel Poghogyan

Artist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Isabella Portantino

Artist Bio:

Isabella "Bella" Portantino is a middle school student at La Canada 7/8. She has studied Art at Mission Renaissance and The Art Room. She has also taken summer camp graphics and animation classes at Art Center College of Design. She has a keen eye for Anime characters. Her future in Art is ahead of her.

Anton Prather

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Saralynne Precht

Artist Bio:

Saralynne Lowrey Precht has honed her creative eye over the course of 30+ years as an editorial art/design director for national women's fashion/lifestyle magazines. She has had collages and photographs in gallery shows and in print. Her current incarnation is co-owner of Treehaus, a lifestyle boutique in Atwater Village, which showcases art and design by local makers. She lives in Burbank with her husband and 11 year old son, who attends McKinley Elementary. She has been active in the PTA, chairing Reflections and MAP (McKinley Arts Project).

C. Jeremy Price

www.cjeremyprice.com

Artist Bio:

Jeremy Price was born and raised in London, Ontario. Upon graduating from the Bealart Vocational Art School he attended the University of British Columbia and the Vancouver Film School. In 2008, Price moved to Montreal where he has lived since. Montreal serves as the major inspiration for his paintings. Their subject matter consists of loose depictions and representations of the streets and neighbourhoods that compose the city. They are unbiased representations of the stagings of the day, of commuting, of living. The images are fleeting moments, snapshots from a life that has a habit of moving too quickly sometimes.

Michael PulidoArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Art Student

Airish QuerubinArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Tarra Quiambao

www.kozutami.deviantart.com

Artist Bio:

Hi! I'm Tarra Quiambao and I am currently a freshman at John Burroughs High School. I really enjoy drawing and I have been drawing ever since I was little. I get my inspiration from other artists, animation, and video games. I hope to enroll in an art school and work in the animation or game development field someday.

Lillian RaeslerArtist Bio:

Hi! My name is Lillian Raesler. I am 10 years old. I love art. I cannot LIVE without drawing something every single day. I also play soccer. I am in U12 in the AYSO soccer league. I go to Bret Harte Elementary and am in 5th grade. I am also part of the Elephant Ambassadors Club to save wild elephants from ivory poachers. My favorite style of drawing is manga. Yay!!! My favorite animals are owls and horses. (I like drawing both owls and horses). Drawing is my passion and I treasure it dearly.

Mohona RahmanArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Art Student

Steven ReddArtist Bio:

Steven Redd was born and raised in Los Angeles. He graduated from Art Center College of Design in 1999 with a BFA in illustration. He currently works as an art director designing posters for film and television.

Carole ReeserArtist Bio:

Carole Reeser is a Burbankian born and raised. She makes black and white "Dot" drawings, also known as "Stippling" or "Pointillism," a very old art form. Carole also works in color, but prefers black and white. She enjoys the shadows, shading and depth. Carole is also trying to get into surrealist art. Carole also does Jewelry design. See Facebook: Reeser Originals. Enjoy.

Reznor Reeves

Artist Bio:

Reznor Reeves is creative, athletic, smart and fun. He wants to invent and build things when he grows up. Reznor likes DC and Marvel characters and thinks Batman would win anybody in a fight! He thanks you for looking at his artwork!

Brooke Regalado

www.b-regalado-draws.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Brooke Regalado is the third generation artist in my family. Her Grandfather is an animator and her father is a photographer/graphic artist. She always loved animation and illustration for as long as she can remember. When Brooke graduated high school she got a job as an intern for Warner Bros. TV Animation, while attending Cal Arts. After graduating Cal Arts Brooke was hired by Warner Bros. as a character designer, working on all new shows. On her own time, Brooke enjoys drawing things based on her favorite horror and scifi movies, but giving them a twist. Funny drawings are her favorite. It makes Brooke feel so satisfied when she makes someone laugh.

Sheridan Renfroe

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Philip Restivo III

Artist Bio:

Philip is a 7 year old 2nd grader at McKinley Elementary School. His early works were influenced by Jackson Pollock. But, Philip was deeply moved and inspired by Van Gogh's "Starry Night" in Kindergarten. It's had a profound and deep influence on his work today. I love his work and am so proud of him.

I just wish I could get him to listen to his papa with both ears!

Enjoy Philip's "Sunset."

Rachel Ann Bernardino Reyes

Artist Bio:

Rachel Reyes was born in Glendale, California in 1998. She currently lives in Burbank, California, and attends John Burroughs High School as a senior. Youngest of four daughters, Rachel was influenced by many lasting 90's icons through her sisters' obsessions. Such icons included the Backstreet Boys, Jesse McCartney, Disney films, and many popular children's series such as: Pokémon, Thundercats, The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air, and Sabrina the Teenage Witch. Since she was a child, Rachel has been inspired and fascinated by anything that strays from reality as it opens up new possibilities of life and its inhabitants. Currently, Rachel is working to sharpen her techniques and widen her range of inspiration even further than before to spark a new wave of creativity within her.

Ryan Reynolds

Artist Bio:

Ryan Reynolds is best known as an actor in feature films, including "Self/less," "R.I.P.D.," "Turbo," "The Croods," "Green Lantern," "The Proposal," and many more. He is married to actress Blake Lively and they have one child together.

Jessica Reza

Vincent Richards

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Art Student

Andy Richter

www.teamcoco.com

Artist Bio:

Andy Richter was born in Grand Rapids, Michigan and raised in Yorkville, Illinois. He is the 2nd of four children. His parents divorced when he was 4. His father teaches Russian at Indiana University. His mother designs kitchen cabinets. He attended the University of Illinois Urbana/Champaign and then moved to Chicago's Columbia College to study film. Richter played in several Chicago improvisation groups before catching his role with Conan O'Brien.

Brad Ricker

www.bradricker.com

Artist Bio:

Brad Ricker is a production designer and art director for motion pictures. He was born in Salem, Massachusetts. He has worked in Film, Television and Commercials locally and across the country. He recently completed work as Supervising Art Director for the Warner Bros. movie "Suicide Squad" in Toronto. After studies in art and photography as well as film at Brown University and Rhode Island School of Design, he moved to New York City in 1980. To work in film design he relocated to Los Angeles in 1988. He lives in Burbank with his wife Calissa, children Isabel and Ethan (both current students at Burroughs), three cats and a toad. You can visit his website at Bradricker.com

Giselle Rivas

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Alex Robinson

Eric Robles

Frank Rocco

Rod Rogers

Dawn Roth

Julia Rothenbuhler

Artist Bio:

Julia Rothenbuhler is a Cleveland, OH native who finds inspiration and joy from kids, avocados, colors, and the art of storytelling. When she is not painting you will find her at the beach or playing basketball with her fiancé. Oh, and she likes Pina Coladas and getting stuck in the rain!

Matthew Rudas

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Ray Ruddles

Dan Russo

www.etsy.com/shop/DarksideDanCreations

Artist Bio:

Dan Russo is 15 years old and I loves to create art. He has loved to draw and paint for as long as he can remember. Dan currently specializes in creating cartoons. His website is etsy.com/shop/DarksideDanCreations

Dan hopes that you like his art!

Johnny Ryan

Karen Sachs

www.thehumanessenceartistry.com

Artist Bio:

Karen Sachs is an artist at heart, loves personal growth and finds helping others irresistible. She started painting as a means to reveal her soul, aid in her personal discovery and color her world beyond imagination. Besides painting and making mosaics, she combines the three passions and is a Inspiring Life Coach. She uses various forms of art to help others heal, find and examine their true essence of who they are so that they can accept themselves. At The Human Essence Artistry you can capture the beauty of life and live it to the fullest.

Rafael SalazarArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Joan SandonArtist Bio:

Joan Sandon has always been creative and artistic, but didn't turn her talents into painting until her mid-thirties. At first she bought some books and tried oil color, but shortly found she was allergic to oil paint and turpentine. Next Joan tried acrylics, but that was not her medium, but when she tried watercolor her love for art blossomed. For many years Joan had little time for art because of work and raising a family. However, after Joan retired she pursued her love with art classes and workshops. Every time Joan thinks she may have painted her masterpiece, she finds the next one is better. Joan will never stop learning and is awed at the sparkle and special effects of the magic of watercolor. Joan has been a member of Burbank Art Association for about 25 years, serving as an officer in nearly every job on the board. She was president for two years. Joan Sandon is an award winning artist and a member of the honors division.

Alejandra SantanaArtist Bio:

My name is Alejandra Santana. Influenced with whatever comes to mind, my ideas are random and different when it comes to comparing them to other artists. I don't put hidden meanings in my work, and I think for the most part it isn't that difficult to figure out I have had experience with art before because my father is a great influence with his artistic background. He is very talented and the technics he uses are not very different from what I learn in a regular art class anyways. I consider myself more reserved and calm but I guess there are some exceptions think I express more of myself through a work of art than I ever could with personality.

Melissa Santos

www.instagram.com/lusa_photography

Artist Bio:

Melissa is a photographer who was born and raised in Los Angeles. Photography is her passion and one day she would love to share her vision/photographs with the world. Art is the key to her soul.

Adrianna SarukhnyanArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Anne Schwarz

www.spinnerscircle.com

Artist Bio:

Anne Schwarz is a fiber artist who makes handspun yarns made from natural fibers, including her own alpacas. She has shown her work and demonstrated spinning with the Animal History Museum, Echo Park PDA (Public Display of Art) and Keystone Art Space Open Studios. She teaches hand spinning classes and has a blog at www.spinnerscircle.com.

Mathew SeguraArtist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Jennifer Serena

www.jenserena.com

Artist Bio:

As a photographer with a background in events and fundraising for nonprofits, I understand the power of a good story, the importance of a well-kept (but flexible) timeline, and how to make an impact on a streamlined budget. I am incredibly grateful for all of life's experiences - especially having photography as a career. I'm a detail-oriented person – but only when it comes to my shoots. I grow a small food garden, but still can't pass up Chik-fil-A. I love to travel and experience new things – especially with my family, but love our home and studio in Burbank.

Kristine SermenoArtist Bio:

Hi ! I'm Kristine Alicia and I'm a student. I love the arts and the concept of art made by anything not machine made. Art has been a coping mechanism for me these past years and I'm happy to have my art work seen!

Arshleen SethiArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

John Seymore

Artist Bio:

John Seymore's animation credits include Background Design and Props and Effects on a variety of TV series for Fox, Nickelodeon and Disney. Titles include "Family Guy," "Fairly Odd Parents," "The Cleveland Show," "The Replacements," "Futurama," and "SpongeBob Squarepants," among others.

Nicky Seymore

Siena Seymore

Sydney Shamasyan

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

David Shannon

www.nodavidshannon.com

Artist Bio:

David Shannon was born in Washington, D.C, in 1959. He grew up in Spokane, WA. David liked to draw as soon as he could hold a crayon. He went to Hutton Elementary school where his teachers soon realized that if they let David draw murals it would keep him from disrupting class and their classroom would have some pretty good art on the walls, too. David eventually graduated from Art Center College of Design in Pasadena where he majored in Illustration. In He sold his pickup truck and moved to New York City in 1983 to start a career in editorial illustration. David's work appeared in many magazines and newspapers, including Time, Newsweek, Rolling Stone, and The New York Times, as well as numerous book jackets and posters. In 1988 he illustrated his first children's book, How Many Spots Does a Leopard Have?, by Julius Lester. (Btw, Leopards have two spots – dark ones and light ones.) After illustrating several books by other authors, David was encouraged to try writing his own stories. His first book was How Georgie Radbourn Saved Baseball, which was named a New York Times Best-illustrated book in 1994. In 1999 the semi-autobiographical story, No, David!, received a Caldecott Honor. David has written and/ or illustrated over 35 books for children. He lives in Los Angeles with his Wife, Heidi and his daughter, Emma.

Jillene Share

Nate Shaw

www.nateshawart.com

Artist Bio:

Nate Shaw is a relentless observer of the natural world. Seeking the hidden beauty of the mundane, he draws only what his eye perceives. His watercolor drawings of figures are faithful depictions of people he has met on his most recent voyage to the sunken city of Kanburb. More of his drawings, paintings, and comics can be seen at nateshawart.com. I promise.

Michael Shepard

Aña-Lisa Siemsen-McQuaide

Artist Bio:

Aña-Lisa is a 10th generation Angelino who is inspired by the excitement and diversity of her home city. She started drawing as soon as she could hold a pen and has explored her creativity through a variety of media including drawing, painting, sculpting, writing, photography, digital media, jewelry and accessory making, and recently, costume construction. She believes the wonderful quote from Ursula Le Guin, 'The creative adult is the child who survived' and is happy to support the efforts of Arts for All to bring creative encouragement and enrichment to the students of BUSD.

Jenni Silberstein

Artist Bio:

Jenni Silberstein was born and grew up in New York City, and her first year of high school was at the High School of Art & Design. When Jenni's family moved to Long Island, not having support for her goals in art, she switched her area of concentration to English. Occasionally, since then, Jenni has picked up a paintbrush and worked on some painting, but did not pursue it in any organized fashion. After college, Jenni moved to Southern California, got married, and worked as a word processor and administrative assistant. She and her husband raised a daughter, living mostly in Southern and Northern California, although they also spent 3-1/2 years in Oklahoma. In the fall of 2012, they moved to Missouri where her husband got a new job. They bought a home, but tragically, just a few weeks later he was killed by a drunk driver. After a year Jenni moved back to Southern California to be near her daughter, who was working in Los Angeles. Jenni has made her home in Burbank and is now devoting herself to developing her artistic skills. She taken classes at the Creative Arts Center and found them very helpful. Although it was discouraging at first, with persistence her efforts are paying off.

Allison Sill

www.instagram.com/sillam07

Artist Bio:

Allison Sill says, "Always a fan of art, I have aspired to be an artist since childhood and have been studying it for over a decade. I believe that art should always be a learning process, and that I will always aspire to be better. I typically work on landscapes, but I have been commissioned for portraits, realism (animals), and abstract pieces. Painting provides an escape for me from the stresses of life, and I am capable of getting lost in a painting for hours at a time. Currently, I live and work in Phoenix, AZ in the digital marketing landscape."

Sarah Sills

www.facebook.com/personalizedcreationsbysills

Artist Bio:

My name is Sarah Sills and I am a special education teacher for ages 0-3 in Reno, Nevada. That is my vocation; however, my hobby is art. I grew up with a paper and pencil in my hands at all times. Forget the dolls and ponies! I wanted to draw! I mostly drew pictures of hearts and rainbows for my mom at that time, but things have changed over the years. My drawings had expanded to much more, but then I became busy with school and work; the drawing had taken a back seat...until a few years ago when I stumbled upon another passion for painting. I enjoy painting whatever people want, from animals and characters to landscapes. The more challenging, the better. You can see samples of my paintings on my Facebook page, Personalized CreARTions by Sills.

Ed Skudder

www.edskudder.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Ed Skudder is a writer, director and content creator currently working at Warner Bros Animation in LA. He has worked on feature films, TV series, music videos, commercials and tons of weird stuff for the internet, including creating the web series Dick Figures, which has accumulated nearly half a billion views to date. He has spent his career creating animated content for clients including Disney, Nickelodeon, Lions Gate, Jim Henson and many others. In his spare time he likes to make music and run around, and when he's an old man plans to open a bakery. But he won't sell anything. He'll just eat it all himself.

Logan SmithArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Art Student

M. Masako Axthelm SmithMaresa Smith*Joette Snyder

www.joette-snyder.artistwebsites.com

Artist Bio:

Joette Snyder's love affair with animals is deep, since she was a small child walking her neighbor's dogs, walking to the Sunset stables and bringing home a crippled kitten. To capture her subjects' facial expressions and reach into those eyes, the soul of all living things is what she strives for. Now drawing people and adding humans to animal portraits is her new adventure in art. Joette was raised in Los Angeles, drawing horses and dogs from about the age of five. She studied art and design in college and was a commercial artist for fifteen years. Her favorite vacation places are the National parks; they are places to be close to nature. For nine years, Joette lived in the Pacific Northwest close to the habitat of many of these beautiful creatures. She moved back to Los Angeles seven years ago to dedicate more time as an artist. Her philosophy is — life is getting short, enjoy your passions! Wildlife are her favorite subjects. Joette is in awe of the beautiful creations on our planet and dedicated to preserve them in her art. Her subjects are usually in action rather than a stationary position such as horses running with wind in their manes or big cats on the prowl. She loves those big cats! Joette's favorite medium is pencil and Charcoal, deep shadows and highlights. Watercolor is a second medium choice, she's working on mastering that one. There are two new mediums she will be exploring, colored pencils with some tonal papers, then paper designed just for charcoal with white Conte Crayon, she can't wait to explore these new mediums.

Caroline Solberg

Artist Bio:

Caroline Solberg is on the Board of Directors for the Burbank Arts For All foundation. She has a child at Muir. She enjoys traveling and photography.

Tammy Speth

Michael John Spitaletto

www.michaeljohnspitaletto.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Visual Artist Michael John Spitaletto was born in Jersey City, New Jersey and raised in Asbury Park. He attended Flagler College in St. Augustine, Florida receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree in studio arts. He moved to Los Angeles mid-1996. "I work in layers combining elements of hard edge and geometric abstract with surrealism, blurring shapes and words of my dreams and reality visually combining the sleep-state with the waking world. My work is process oriented and lifestyle inspired pulling influences from my time spent motorcycling and surfing in Southern California." Michael has participated in 34th and 35th Venice Art Auctions and was awarded first place at the 50th Newport Beach Art Exhibition. His work will also be featured in World Wide Art Book's "Current Masters" due out this December.

Josh Staub

www.jubileestudios.com

Artist Bio:

Josh Staub works for Walt Disney Animation Studios, most recently serving as Visual Effects Supervisor on the 2014 Academy Award winning animated short film 'Feast'. Prior to assuming the VFX Supervisor role, Josh contributed as a Lighting Supervisor on the Academy Award winning animated feature film 'Frozen', as well as 'Tangled', and served as a Lighting Artist on 'Wreck it Ralph', 'Bolt', and on the Academy Award winning animated short film 'Paperman.' Josh lives in Burbank with his wife, two teenagers, and their two dogs "Pepper" and "Buster."

Mia Staubwww.thecottagecupcakery.comArtist Bio:

Hello! My name is Mia Staub. I am really excited to donate my three paintings to Burbank Arts for All. My dad has been donating for a few years and I have recently found my love for painting during my freshman year at John Burroughs. I am now a sophomore and I find painting an escape to the long hours of school work, homework, and volleyball. I haven't been painting for very long, but I love experimenting with a bunch of different techniques and colors.

Elise Stearns-NiesenArtist Bio:

Elise Stearns-Niesen is a life-long resident of Burbank and developed her love of photography as a high school student at John Burroughs High School over 30 years ago. Five years ago, she parlayed her love of photography into a part-time career, and went from a serious hobbyist to a semi-professional photographer for the local UniqueVintage.com website. There, she shoots mostly fashion photography. Her real love is travel photography and her most prized photographs have been taken in faraway places. She is happy to contribute a few of those photographs to the Secret Art Show!

Alexis StephensonArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Juno StilleyArtist Bio:

Born in Southern California in 2000, the year of the Golden Dragon, Juno Stilley's adventures in the world have taught her that life imitates art. Juno looks forward to continuing exploring the world through the eyes of an artist.

Tucker Stilleywww.tuckerstilley.comArtist Bio:

Born in Santa Ana, California in 1961 and educated in an eclectic patchwork stretching across North America - Stilley is a child of the Space Age - with all the bizarre baggage that entails. Stilley is a veteran inter-media artist and 'distinguished alumni' of Massachusetts College of Art and Design where he was a member of the infamous Studio for Interrelated Media. During the 80's - with technology a moving force in art, Stilley moved freely between academia, technology, corporate, public and the underground. Since then Stilley has worked primarily in Los Angeles as a media artist, sound designer and film editor. Diagnosed with Lou Gehrig's disease (ALS) in 2005, Stilley is now completely paralyzed. His experience with ALS has had a major impact on himself as an artist and on his creative thought processes. Inhabiting a place where modernism and chaos theory collide, his lack of body necessitates new sources of intent, gesture and content.

Kirsten Stoner

Jacob Sugars

Catharina Sukiman

www.catsukiman.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Catharina Sukiman was born in Jakarta, Indonesia and now living in Burbank, CA. Currently she is a Production Assistant for Nickelodeon's Pig Goat Banana Cricket. She loves animals, eating and cooking delicious food.

T.J. Sullivan

www.tj-sullivan.com

Artist Bio:

TJ Sullivan is an Emmy nominated animator and director currently working on Dreamwork's "Dragons: Race the Edge," which is airing on Netflix. He's worked for various studios over his 20-year career including Dreamworks, Lucasfilm, and Warner Brother's Animation and on such projects as "Barnyard: The Original Party Animals," and "Beware the Batman." In his spare time, he attempts to cobble together an online comic strip called "Going Boldly."

Julie Svendsen

www.juliesvendsen.com

Artist Bio:

Julie Svendsen worked as a Show/Concept Designer at Walt Disney Imagineering for many years. Currently, she is a freelance illustrator/designer.

Gabe Swarr

www.gabeswarr.com

Kevin Tahmasabi

Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Talya Taikaldiranian

Artist Bio:

Talya is 11 years old and a student at Luther Burbank Middle School. She attends art classes at Xpress Art Center and has a great passion for art. She loves Art, Dance and Mermaids....

Sara TajiboyArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Rae Tall

www.instagram.com/raelynntall

Artist Bio:

Rae Tall was born in Oklahoma in 1969 and has traveled the past 20 years living in Japan, California and England. She is eager to explore different cultures and art around the world. Rae loves quilting, drawing, painting, paper marbling, gardening and organizes a monthly craft day for her neighborhood where they create all types of crafts. She believes art is love, life, joy, grief and necessary. Rae now resides in colorful Colorado with her hunky husband Nate, two sons Trae and Dakota, her pup Apollo, one hen Katie and rooster Natebird. You can view her gallery on Instagram @raelynnnetall.

Arut Tantasirin

www.aruttantasirin.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Arut Tantasirin is an Emmy Award nominated animator from Bangkok, Thailand. He graduated with a Masters Degree of Animation from Academy of Art University, San Francisco. Arut has loved art and animation all of his life. He has received awards for his animated short film Cheez...z, a story about "Yama" an old man and "Warbie" a greedy little bird. Arut is currently working at Nickelodeon Animation Studio. Please see "Cheez...z" here: www.vimeo.com/arut/cheez

Susie TaylorArtist Bio:

Susie Taylor... teaches SCIENCE to elementary kids near Pasadena! Born and raised in Southern California, Susie's love for the beach and surf inspires her creations... She is also a published children's book author, enjoying kids' reactions to her "Topsy-Turvy Tracy" books!

Susie paints with acrylics and markers for most of her creations, using her fingers, Q-tips, cotton balls, and oh yes, paintbrushes, too!

'I paint what makes me happy; imperfect, with multiple do-overs... Enjoying the process the entire time, hoping that others will enjoy them, too!'

David Teas

www.caffeinatedteas.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

David Teas loves candy, adventuring in dungeons, and racing karts. David currently works as a PA at Nick Animation Studios finding keys and unlocking puzzles.

Alex TecsonArtist Bio:

Alex Tecson is a female 17 year old Burbank High School student in Mrs. Pickett's Animation 2 class.

Carol TensenArtist Bio:

Carol Tensen was born in the land of Starbucks and Amazon, back when it was the land of Boeing Recessions and Ivar's Clam Chowder. She lived and did art in the rainy city until the early 1980s when she relocated to SoCal where she worked in a Japanese Bank, did artwork for dog food packaging and taught sixth graders. She mostly works in acrylic, watercolor, and Prismacolor pencil. Her influences are many and ridiculously varied.

Julia TerranoArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Victoria Thornberry

www.victoriathornberry.blogspot.com

Artist Bio:

Victoria Thornberry is an artist influenced and inspired by animation. In her early years she studied fine art but quickly grew interested in comic books and cartoons. In 2010 Victoria earned her bachelor's degree from the Art Institute - California and has been working in animation since graduation. Her experience includes children book illustration, storyboards, and character design.

Aidan TonoianAngelika Tonoian*Narek Tonoian*Dayana Torosyan*Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Mariana Toscawww.mtosca.comArtist Bio:

Mariana Tosca is an actor, producer and social activist. She sits on the Board of TheTenDollarClub.org, a nonprofit organization which funds poverty alleviation projects in underdeveloped countries, and founded the Los Angeles Homeless Coalition, offering shelter, relief and skills training to the homeless population there. She serves on the Advisory Boards of Rex & Friends Charitable Foundation, which provides music education and music therapy to people who are blind and/or autistic, Born Free USA, a leading wildlife conservation group which protects threatened or endangered species in the wild, and DreamCatcher Wild Horse & Burro Sanctuary, which takes in previously rounded up and/or adopted wild horses and returns them to their natural wild state within a herd environment. She also proudly serves alongside Dr. Jane Goodall on the Advisory Council of Save the Chimps, the world's largest chimpanzee sanctuary which is home to hundreds of chimpanzees retired from the NASA space program, bio-medical research and the entertainment & pet trades. Mariana has been a recurring commentator on HuffPost Live and on The Point. She studied Acting at the American Conservatory Theatre, sat on the Board of Directors of Alliance Repertory Company and Theatre East and is a member of Mensa International.

Mary Tovmasianwww.marytdesign.comMeline Tovmasianwww.melinetovmasian.comSirvard Tovmasian*William Garrett Towery*Erin Trainor*Artist Bio:

My name is Erin Presley Trainor. I love to draw. I prefer sketching but whatever. I also love soccer, I am on an extra team GU13 but we are playing up U14. I am 11, turning 12 on October 3. I have two borthers, one 9 years old, the other is only a few days old, his name is Matthew and my 9 year old brother is named John. "My team is my family and soccer is my life." - Erin Trainor

Ashley TranArtist Bio:

My name is Ashley Tran. I am a sophomore at John Burroughs High School and a varsity cheerleader. I am not very big on creating artwork, but when I do, it is a way for me to express myself and my feelings.

Tim TranArtist Bio:

Tim is an on again off again artist, who prefers pencil and pen as his medium. He gets most of his inspiration from video games such as, Metal Gear and the sort. He now works a boring 9-5 and wishes he was at home saving the world.

Lauren TurnerArtist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Mahir UddinEren Unten

www.erenblanquet.com

Artist Bio:

Eren Unten is a children's book illustrator.

Wayne Unten

www.animatingforfun.com

Artist Bio:

Wayne Unten is an Animator Supervisor at Walt Disney Animation Studios and animation instructor at Calarts. When the working day is done, his personal animation can be found at animatingforfun.com.

Nathalie UrrutiaJessica Vasquez*Artist Bio:

I am Jessica Vasquez, a 16 year old student at John Burroughs high school. I really like traveling, hence why I drew the Eiffel Tower, and love learning about other countries' cultures.

Fawn Veerasunthorn

www.fawnv.tumblr.com

Artist Bio:

Fawn Veerasunthorn was born in Thailand, went to school in Ohio, and is now living and working in the beautiful Burbank with her husband and two cats.

She has worn many hats in the animation industry. She is currently working as a story artist at Walt Disney Animation Studios. Her recent projects includes Frozen, Zootopia and Moana. You can see more of her work on fawnv.tumblr.com. Follow her on Instagram @fawnv.

Claudia Vega

Artist Bio:

My name is Claudia Vega and I'm a 16 year old girl with a passion to art. I was born in Morelia, Michoacan and I crossed the border when I was just two years old. Art has always been a part of me and as well runs in the family. This piece of art wasn't really created for a reason other than to just try a more realistic drawing once again and try to get better at it. Yet by the time I was done I think the meaning of my art is that some teenagers make bad choices. I give it the title "Choices." This piece of art took me a whole week because I was trying to get the shading just right. Once I had the drawing down I decided put in some color to make it pop out. As well on the smoke I added some paint. In a way I created this piece of art to show that us teenagers have a choice to do the right thing or not. At the end it's all about having fun with art and express it in your own way.

Marcus Velazquez

Artist Bio:

Marcus Velazquez is a Production Assistant on Nickelodeon's The Fairly Oddparents. He previously worked at Lucasfilm Animation on Star Wars: The Clone Wars during its final seasons. He cofounded American Smoke & Color, a production company, where he films and edits. Marcus is currently striving to be a storyboard artist in the animation industry. Marcus loves to make crossovers with some of his favorite anime from his childhood. Cardcaptor Sakura was the influence behind this drawing. Chloe Carmichael, the newest addition to The Fairly Oddparents, has such an endearing design that pairs well with the magic of Cardcaptor Sakura.

Kim Velena

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Ford Wagner

Artist Bio:

Hello, my name is Bradford Wagner, but I go by Ford for short. I am from Los Feliz right outside Downtown Los Angeles, and currently live in Burbank, CA. I am a student at John Burroughs High School and I am currently attending my fourth and final year. I am seventeen years old and love art. I have been surrounded by art since I was little. My dad is a very talented artist but never had a chance to show everyone. He inspired me to make art and gave me the passion. I take a lot of inspiration from the ocean. It is full of movement, color, and surprise. My family and I go a lot. What we do ranges from swimming, paddle boarding, and just hanging on the sand.

Suzanne Weerts

Artist Bio:

Suzanne Weerts developed her artistic style while making pep rally posters in High School. Before the advent of computers, she was known for her beautiful handwriting, but now that her hands are practically attached to a keyboard, her writing is virtually illegible. And her art most often takes the form of doodles at the corners of meeting agendas. Weerts celebrates creativity and serves on the board of the Burbank Arts for All Foundation and on several other committees, councils and task forces with Burbank's schools.

Myles West

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Reed Whisler

Artist Bio:

Reed Whisler was born in Hollywood, CA in 1998. He is taking the advanced art class at John Burroughs High. Reed made this painting in class and was inspired by the mystery of the universe. This art was made with water color, colored pencils, and marker. The design in the center of the red rose shows space and direction. Have you ever wondered how space and direction were invented? Interesting, huh?

Punn Wiantrakoon

www.punn.prosite.com

Artist Bio:

Punn Wiantrakoon is an artist that loves to get his hands dirty on everything. From doodling in his sketchbook to creating short films. He likes to draw, paint, sculpt, photograph, make films and everything CG. He just likes to have fun and create art. He lives in Highland Park with his wife and 2 little kitty cats. When he's not busy doing all those things above, you might find him at his day job as a modeler at Walt Disney Animation Studios.

Beth Wilke

Artist Bio:

Beth Wilke is a Sophomore at John Burroughs High School, where she is on the JV Cheer Squad. In addition to her studies, she is a teacher at Fun and Fit Gymnastics Center and is in the National Charity League with her mom. In her spare time, Beth likes to binge watch Netflix, take pictures of her dog, and enjoys a good sushi bar.

Kate Wilke

Artist Bio:

Kate Wilke, born and raised in Burbank, is a Senior at John Burroughs High School. This is her third year participating in the Secret Art Show. Kate enjoys working in different medias, her favorites being pencil and watercolor. In addition to her studies, Kate plays a lot of water polo both at JBHS and with the Rose Bowl Aquatic Program. She also enjoys world travel, llamas, Netflix, chicken wings and having a good laugh.

Benji Williams

www.benjiwilliams.com

Artist Bio:

Benji Williams is an illustrator and storyboard artist from Georgia. He currently storyboards for the animated series Fairly Oddparents on Nickelodeon. His past work includes boards for the FX show Archer, Cartoon Network, and Turner Studios in Atlanta. Besides drawing, Benji spent a season working at Red Lobster during their legendary lobster fest.

Kristal Williams

Artist Bio:

Kristal Williams lives and creates in the Inland Empire, but her heart and soul belongs to the ocean. She dabbles in any type of medium she can get her hands on, but has a special love for typography and hand lettering. She believes that art is whatever moves the soul- that could be anything from paintings, food, music, nature, or movies. Her philosophy is that if you look up from your screens every once in a while and pay attention to the world around you, you'll find beauty and spirit in the most unlikely places. When she's not working, painting, writing, or riding her bike, she's drinking coffee and snuggling with her dog Rocky Raccoon. You can find him as well as more of Kristal's work on Instagram @these_kaliedoscope_eyes.

Dustin Wissmiller

www.dustinwissmiller.com

Artist Bio:

Whether it was studying in school, or teaching himself new techniques to showcase his own vision, Dustin Wissmiller has been a student of art his entire life. With a love for movies he has worked throughout the film industry for the past 13 years. His true passion, though, has become photography. Once just a hobby, it quickly became another medium for Dustin to showcase his creativity. Recently, it allowed him to blend it with another passion of his, animals. Dustin partnered with the Actors and Others for Animals organization, volunteering to shoot portraits of various animals for their Pet Assisted Therapy program. He currently works for Warner Bros. Pictures and is also a freelance writer. He lives in Burbank with his wife Paola and their two "kids", Sunshine (dog) and Dory (cat).

Emma Wochner

Artist Bio:

John Burroughs High School Student

Jeff Wong

www.jeffwwong.blogspot.com

Jennifer Wood

www.artofjwood.com

Artist Bio:

Jennifer Wood is an artist in the animation industry where she has worked for studios including Nickelodeon and Cartoon Network. Currently she is a character designer on the new show "Pig Goat Banana Cricket" at Nickelodeon Animation Studios. She has also illustrated several children's picture books.

Jessica WoodArtist Bio:

Art Student at David Starr Jordan Middle School

Jim WorthyArtist Bio:

For more than 18 years, Jim Worthy has enjoyed working in the animation industry as a background designer for Cartoon Network, Nickelodeon, Klasky/Csupo, Hanna Barbera and Disney studios. He has worked on a variety of shows including Dexter's Laboratory, The Powerpuff Girls, and Fairly Oddparents, Danny Phantom, Tuff Puppy, The X's, Whatever Happened to Robot Jones, My Life As A Teenage Robot, Chalkzone, AAAHHH! Real Monsters, The Rugrats, and My Gym Partner's A Monkey. Jim has also contributed BG designed to many shorts, pilots and specials.

Sona WyseArtist Bio:

Sona Wyse is a 6th grader at John Muir Middle School. She enjoys reading, drawing, dancing, performing in musicals of Metropolitan Educational Theater Network and spending time with her friends. When she grows up, she wants to perform in musicals on Broadway.

Tyler XieJulie Yakhaman*Artist Bio:

Burbank High School Art Student

Grace Young

www.graceyoungportfolio.blogspot.com

Artist Bio:

Grace Young was born in Taiwan, but grew up in San Gabriel Valley. She attended the Art Center College of Design in Pasadena and currently works at Nickelodeon in Burbank.

Lauren YuArtist Bio:

Lauren Yu is a freshman at CSUN who has participated in the Burbank Secret Art Show ever since it started! She has a deep love for all mediums of art ranging from fine arts, acting, photography, and more. She has chosen to pursue an Art Major, and hopes her contributions to this program will help other aspiring artists follow their dreams. Her favorite thing to draw is women of all shapes, colors, and sizes because she believes EVERYONE is beautiful. If you like her artwork then feel free to follow her on Instagram @missdoodlesalot, you won't be disappointed!

Saeid ZameniateniDebbie Zeitman

www.iholdthismoment.com

Artist Bio:

Debbie Zeitman's photographic life began as a freelance photographer for the Associated Press covering primarily sports. Now her eyes drift to life's everyday rich details, whether tiny or grand. After many years with a camera in her hand and a notepad in her pocket, she combines images with words. Or words with images. The creations can start with either one as the launchpad. She scatters the results around her hometown and places she travels, on telephone poles and on any other welcoming surface, curious about what the action might provoke.

Lucia Zezza

www.cargocollective.com/luciazezza

Artist Bio:

Hey, I'm Lucia Zezza. My home is Los Angeles, the place where I was born and raised, and surrounded by people, including my parents, who continue to see art making as integral to the well-being of the world. In this space, I have grown up to feel that being steeped in art and its powers has the stuff to make people cry beautiful, happy tears, to savor things more than they had before, to shift a person to their center over and over again. Art-making makes space for the ongoing process of "becoming", and thank goodness it reminds us we never actually become, because so often we forget, we get stuck. My inspirations are sometimes cartoons, sometimes Bonnard. And people who go for it because all they want is to create. I'm currently an undergraduate student studying fine arts at the UCLA School of Arts and Architecture. And I work at the Hammer Museum store. Before this position, my time at the Hammer was spent inside the Hammer Museum Student Association events committee. As part of my contribution, I spoke to working artists in order to incorporate their arts practice into the public and interactive space of Hammer events, one of which was part of Arts Restore LA: Westwood, a Hammer curated project that aimed to re-generate vacant spaces in Westwood village with the help of artists and craftspeople of Los Angeles. These experiences have been wonderful for my thinking as an artist interested in art as a means to foster community and alternative spaces for education.

Kelly Ziolkoski

Karl Zurflüh

www.karlzurfluh.com

www.behance.net/karlzurfluh

www.tumblr.com/blog/karlzurfluh

Artist Bio:

Karl Zurflüh has been creating art for as long as he can remember. Karl grew up in Tacoma WA, where he spent a lot of rainy days drawing, watching cartoons, and reading comics. In 1992 Karl got very involved with the local Hip Hop community and started painting murals. It took him a couple of years before he started getting commissions and Karl has been hooked ever since. Little did he know this would lay the ground work for his current career. Since college Karl has had just about every kind of commercial art job that one could have. From t-shirt design, web design, animation, free-lance illustration, corporate branding, skateboard graphics, to package design. Over the past 12 years Karl has been working hard as an illustrator/ graphic designer in the advertising world. Through all the commercial success he have had, Karl continues to make his own art.
